ADVANCE BUNCH ARRIVE IN ST. LOUIS

National Committee Begins Its Preliminary Session to Pass Upon Credentials of Delegations.

Bryan Expected to Address the Assembled Democrats on Thursday.

Secretary of War Baker Will Be the President's Personal Representative in the Convention.

Platform to Be Left Largely to President.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

St. Louis, June 12. — Members of the Democratic National Committee met here today to pass on final arrangements for the convention, opening June 14, when 1,092 delegates will name the national Democratic ticket.

Five contests are before the committee, involving seats of the national committeemen from the District of Columbia, Hawaii and Texas and the seats of the delegates from Hawaii and six delegates from the District of Columbia.

Chairman McCombs stated speedy adjustment of the contests and a short session of the committee was probable.

The chairman announced a revised program of the convention.

The first session will be on Wednesday, when the keynote address will be delivered and committees appointed.

The permanent chairman will address the convention on Thursday and other speeches will be delivered, probably including one by William Jennings Bryan.

The platform will be presented Friday morning, and on Friday night the nomination will be made.

The principal planks of the platform will relate to foreign relations, the Mexican situation, preparedness and tariff.

It will be asserted that in a time of unprecedented conditions, President Wilson has maintained a "strict and honest" neutrality and has kept us out of strife.

The Mexican plank will develop that this question should be approached with an idea of keeping peace with the Mexican Republic, and to the interest of maintaining peace within the Mexican borders.

The platform will assert that the Democratic administration has advanced adequate preparedness measures.

The tariff plank will point out that the reductions of tariff duty have met the demands, so that the income from that source in normal times will meet the demands of the government, an achievement of the Democratic Party.

President Wilson is understood to have been invited by the committee to name the permanent chairman and that Homer Cummings, of Connecticut, will probably be selected.

The United States supply ship Bridge being towed to her dock after her launching at the Charleston navy yard. The supply ship, which is the first one to be built, is 425 feet long, 55 feet wide and has a draft of 21 feet. It is designed for a speed of 14 knots. The big vessel, which was christened by Mrs. Grandville S. Fleece, cost $1,425,000.

REPUBLICAN NOMINEE VISITS NEW YORK CITY

After Six Years of Inactivity Justice Hughes Plunges at Once Into the Arena of Politics.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, June 12.—The first organized political move in the furtherance of the campaign for the election of Charles E. Hughes, was announced today upon the arrival of the Republican candidate here from Washington.

It was the revival of the Hughes alliance, an organization of Hughes Republicans, Democrats and independent voters who came into existence during the second campaign of Hughes for Governor of New York in 1908.

Travis Whitney accompanied the presidential candidate to the Hotel Astor, where Mr. Hughes has established his headquarters.

Whitney said that the same men who were identified with the Hughes alliance had decided to get together to work in New York state for the election of the candidate, probably under the name of the Hughes Non-Partisan League and in co-operation with the regular Republican organization.

Mr. Hughes, after six years of inactivity in politics, has plunged into the presidential campaign without awaiting formal notification of his nomination.

Plans for the campaign, selection of a national committee chairman and questions to be emphasized in the official notification are to be discussed today at his conference with G. O. P. leaders.

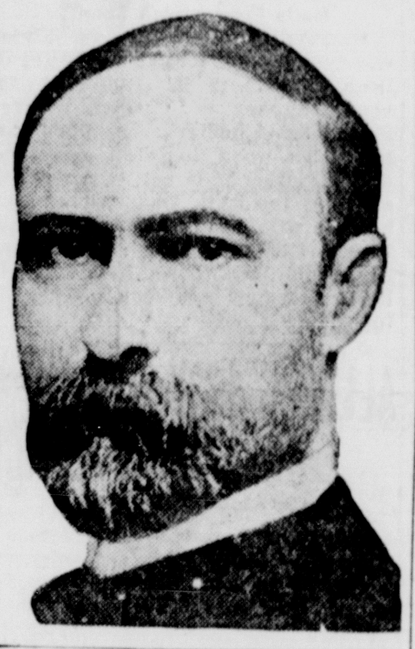

Mr. Hughes received newspaper men this afternoon. He was asked how he felt "to be drafted for the biggest job in the world."

"I can only say," he replied, "there are certain circumstances under which a matter of duty is supremely clear and which leaves no ground for hesitancy in this case.

"There was no question in this situation as to what I should do. I did it. And in my announcement to the people I endeavored to make my attitude clear."

CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS

Indiana Man Is Running Mate of Charles E. Hughes.

Secretary of War Baker will be President Wilson's personal representative at the convention.

He will leave Washington tonight for St. Louis, carrying with him a practically complete draft of the platform, including the important planks written by the President himself for the consideration of the Platform Committee.

Suffragists have planned an unique silent demonstration to the convention. Several thousand women, dressed in white with yellow sashes and carrying yellow parasols, will form a "golden lane" and stand in silence as the delegates pass between their lines.

MORGENTHAU ACTIVE

Henry Morgenthau, former Ambassador to Turkey, who resigned to go into the campaign and who will handle the National Committee's finances, has revived a boom for Secretary Baker of Ohio, for Vice-President on the Democratic ticket.

Morgenthau said he would carry the boom to the uoor of the convention.

Preliminaries to the Democratic convention were completed. The National Committee selected former Governor Glynn of New York as temporary chairman to deliver the keynote speech.

PLANNING TO GET SUPPORT OF TEDDY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, June 12.—Efforts to read significance today in a consultation here between Charles Evans Hughes, Republican candidate for President, and George Wickersham, former United States Attorney General, as mediator, so the rumor went in plans to gain the support of Colonel Roosevelt for the Republican candidate, were met by denial from Mr. Wickersham that his visit had any significance at all.

TRAIN CRASHES INTO WORKMEN

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Cleveland, O., June 12.—New York Central passenger train No. 11 westbound, running more than two hours late in a fog, ran into a crowd of two hundred workmen on the track here early this morning, killing two outright, injuring three and bruising a score.

MRS. COLE PREDICTS SON-IN-LAW'S ELECTION

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Marysville, O., June 12.—Mrs. Dorothy Cole, of this city, celebrated her 96th birthday today by predicting the election of her son-in-law, Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, nominated for the vice-presidency by the Republican National Convention.

Incidentally, although Fairbanks is an Indianian, he is a native of Darby township, Union county, Ohio His wife, Mrs. Cornelia Cole Fairbanks, deceased, was born in Marysville.

ZAPATA TO ATTACK CAPITAL

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, June 12.—Zapata, considered by Mexicans as the most formidable factional leader now opposing the Carranza Government, is encamped with a large body of well equipped men within thirty miles of Mexico City, and an attack on the capital is expected at any time, according to Howard L. Francis, an engineer, who arrived here today from Mexico City.

ATTACK AT VERDUN SHIFTED

Last Night German Infantry Charged French Position West of Fort Vaux But, Paris Reports, Was Repulsed.

Vienna Practically Concedes the Tremendous Success of Russia's Spectacular Drive and Admits Troop Withdrawals.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

The German attack on Verdun has again swung to the east of the Meuse, following the assault of Saturday night on Hill 304.

Last night German infantry charged French positions west of Fort Vaux, but the French War Office reports their repulse.

At the same time, the French positions near Fort Souville and Tavannes were heavily bombarded.

Paris looks for a severe struggle for possession of Fort Souville, to which the bombardment was evidently preliminary.

Should the Germans capture the fort, they would open a breach in the French defenses which might compel the French to abandon this entire line and fall back on inner defenses on the right bank of the river.

The spectacular Russian advance in Galicia and Volhynia apparently has not been checked.

Vienna concedes the withdrawal of Austrian troops in Bukowina, where the advance of the Russians has brought them within 13 miles of the capital, Czernowitz.

THE VOTE OF TRUST REFUSED

Italian Cabinet, Headed By Salandra, Resigns.

KING HASTENS TO CAPITAL

Italy, From a Military, Financial and Economical Standpoint, Is In a Serious Position, Which May Make Her Continuance as a Belligerent Impossible—Socialist and Peace Parties Growing Tremendously.

Rome, June 12.—Having failed to obtain a vote of confidence from parliament, the Italian cabinet, headed by Premier Salandra, has resigned. King Victor Emmanuel is hurrying here from the front responding to an urgent call from his most trusted advisers who feel that the monarca's presence is imperative.

The resignation of the cabinet is the culmination of a chain of developments which have been brewing under the surface, carefully concealed by the governing powers and which, about to be brought to the surface, threaten to plunge Italy into the gravest crisis since the outbreak of the war. Military, financially and economically the country is today in a position so serious that even conservative observers express the fear that the present form of government, threatened with overthrow just before Italy entered into the war, will not survive. To the military, financial and economic plight threatens to be added domestic political upheaval, making impossible Italy's continuance as a belligerent. The Socialist and peace parties have been growing tremendously since the Austrian offensive began, and also the movement for a radical reconstruction of the whole government.

With the Salandra cabinet, which has just resigned, the country has been thoroughly disgusted for months. Only the ever-repeated appeal to the patriotism of the people not to let internal strife spoil Italy's campaign, and the influence and power Salandra managed to maintain in parliament, postponed time and time again the event that has just come to pass.

The constantly growing satisfaction was given irresistible impetus by the successful Austrian offensive on the Trentino, which gave the lie to the confident assurances of statesmen and pro-government newspapers that the Italian front could never be broken; that, on the contrary, the Austro-Hungarian armies were face to face with inevitable defeat.

General Cadorna, the Italian commander in chief, has changed from the people's idol into a subject of bitter criticism.

The predominant note voiced by the Italian newspapers is that Italy made a grave mistake in believing the war would be, for her, a short one. The country was not prepared for a war lasting longer than six months at the outside.

COMING TUESDAY

When the Sells-Floto circus arrives in this city, which will be within a very short time, everbody will be given a fine opportunity of seeing a band of champions, the likes of which has not been gathered together in one organization in circus history.

Out side of the marvelous show features, which this season surpass anything ever before attempted the Sells-Floto people have the following famous characters:

Jess Willard, champion fighter of the world.

Frank Gotch, champion wrestler of the world.

Jack Curley, world's champion promoter of big events.

H. H. Tamman, controling owner and champion showman.

Not since the famous tour of the James J. Jefferies show has a similar organization been attempted and Mr. Tanmon is quite correct in his contention that no previous organization ever was able to meet a payroll the size of his.

Willard and Gotch appear at every performance of the circus, Willard boxing with his mates and Gotch meeting all comers in finish matches.

These athletic giants are drawing wonderful crowds wherever they go and put up a clean-out pleasing exhibition that fascinates women and children as well as the male portion of the throngs that gather everywhere. Willard has come to be known as one of the real physical marvels of the age and Gotch needs no introduction for he has been a real champion since 1908, when he defeated George Hackerschmidt in the memorable match lasting over two hours.

RESTA WINNER IN BIG RACE

Covers the 300 Miles In a Little More Than Three Hours.

Chicago, June 12.—Dario Resta won the fastest 300 mile race ever driven by automobiles at Speedway park in 3 hours, 2 minutes and 31.65 seconds, a speed of 98.61 miles an hour.

Ralph de Palma had the race well in hand and started out to push the last six miles at a speed never before seen in actual contest when the old-time hoodoo which has wrested four other races from him when he was all but at the goal, broke a spring on his motor and took the laurel wreath from off his brow. Undaunted he disconnected the cylinder affected and sped around the course on the other three and won second place and its $6,000 prize.

Every winner of a prize, ten in all, drove faster than the fastest time made at Indianapolis on May 30.

Resta won the $12,000 prize, with the two extra $500 prizes for leading at 100 and at 200 miles.

Christiaens won third money, $3,000, and Vail fourth, $1,300. There were ten starters.

SUPERB GAME OF ATHLETICS DAZES DAYTON

Visitors Were Never in the Hunt Against Heavy Offense and "Stone Wall" Defense of Local Team.

Linson in the Box Was a Bear, Holding Hello Boys Helpless as Babes.

Before a larger crowd than has forced its way through the gates of the base ball grounds for several weeks, the Athletics, Sunday afternoon, in a game fast as lightning, took the Gem City "Hello Boys" into camp by a score of seven to nothing.

The visitors were never in the hunt—were powerless and dazed before the heavy and intelligent offensive and the stone wall defense of the local team.

The game of the local bunch Sunday would have stood a big league team "on its head."

Washington seems now to have a real base ball team.

Linson pitched a masterful game, allowing only six scattering hits, and causing seven to whiff the atmosphere harmlessly. Only twice did a visitor see third base during the game.

Wilson, who started for Dayton, lasted only until the third inning, up to which time Washington accumulated its seven runs. Belk, who succeeded Wilson, put his six feet two power behind his heaves and held the Athletics still, so far as scoring was concerned, the remainder of the game.

Up until the ninth the Athletics played errorless ball. Jones at second accepted seven chances without a wobble. He took part in some fast plays.

Frantz of Dayton backstopped for the locals in good style. Adams and Lewis for the locals biffed for three cushions. A. Grandle came through with a 500 per cent average with the stick, but both of his bingles were a little on the scratch order.

The Convention Results

Two national political conventions—the Republican and Progressive—have concluded their labors. While two candidates were nominated, one by each of the political gatherings, only one accepted the proffered honors.

Since the noise and smoke of conflict has cleared away a look about the political terrain is encouraging.

Colonel Roosevelt has declined to make the campaign for president as the progressive party nominee. While the voluntary withdrawal of his spectacular personality from the contest this fall may be disastrous in its effect upon the future of the third political party which he launched and sponsored four years ago, and tragic to some of the more pronounced of his political followers, it cannot be doubted that it will be beneficial in its results—simplify the issue and guarantee a much saner campaign.

With Colonel Roosevelt eliminated, President Wilson and Justice Hughes will be able to submit a much more clean cut issue to the voters of the nation. There will be, certainly, much more of an appeal to reason and logic and less of the spectacular and dangerously dramatic.

The nation is now well acquainted with the temperament of the president and with that of the republican nominee as well. Both are representative high class, dignified Americans and, there is every reason to believe that the campaign this fall will rise above personal abuse and that neither candidate will indulge in the mistaken policy of creating terrifying boo-gie men of straw in order that they may demolish them in the hope of making an impression on the voters.

As predicted by political seers in the early days of the conventions, the turn down of Colonel Roosevelt was emphatic. Even his suggestion of a compromise candidate was not seriously considered.

The republican convention was well organized, well ordered and proceeded with its business and concluded it too with a thoroughness which left no doubt that the old guard was in absolute control.

The sage of Sagamore Hill announces that he is out of politics, but few Americans accept that statement literally.

It is well, however, at this time when the country faces no crisis, save that urged by the advocates of a preparedness which would eventually lead us away from peace, that one of the two great political parties has chosen and the other will this week choose, as standard bearers men, whose mental poise and public training seems an assurance of peace, no matter which one the electorate of the land may call to service as chief executive.

The progressive movement, consisting largely, if not entirely, of a personal admiration for Colonel Roosevelt, will disappear and the leaders who now feel keenly the disappointment and humiliation of the moment will soon realize that personal preference must give way to the strong will of the majority.

The issues of the campaign have not yet been joined and it is difficult, at this time, to forecast what fundamental difference in policy will be urged. Well sounding generalities and gloomy predictions for the future are no longer sufficient to carry a political party to victory. There must be actual achievement or specific promise in order to secure a majority vote.

Why Verdun?

Just why the German campaign against Verdun is maintained day after day, week after week and month after month is the one big problem which military experts the world over are unable to understand.

Verdun captured does not mean any considerable advantage to the forces of the Kaiser. The losses inflicted upon the French forces do not begin to equal those sustained by the Germans. Not only do the available statistics convey that information, but experience teaches that the cost to the attacking forces is always greater than that sustained by the forces operating on the defensive.

Yet the Verdun attack is maintained in all the violence which characterized the first days of the campaign.

France, though admittedly weaker, numerically, in her army force can well afford to stand toe to toe with Germany and endure the cost of the Verdun campaign and come out victorious.

The allied forces are refusing to be hurried in the inauguration of a general advance. The pressing of Russian forces into Galicia once more is evidence to the world that since the breaking up of winter and the opening of the port of Archangel tremendous stor s of ammunition have reached the Russian battle front.

The most plausible explanations advanced are that the political effect of a victory at Verdun will encourage the German nation to come forward with the men to meet the great concerted advance of the allies when it is launched.

Failing to secure a victory at Verdun the only other answer is that the awful struggle at that point will eliminate France as a factor in the offensive.

Neither explanation is entirely satisfactory and all the world persists in wondering,

Why Verdun?

Poetry For Today

GRIN

If you're upagainst a bruiser and you're getting knocked about—
Grin
If you're feeling pretty groggy, and you're licked beyond a doubt—
Grin
Don't let him see you're flunking; let him know with every clout,
Though your face is battered to a pulp, your booming heart is stout:
Just stand upon your pins until the beggar knocks you out—
And Grin
This life's a bally battle, and the same advice holds true
Of Grin.
If you're up against it badly, then it's only one on you,
So Grin.
If the future's black as thunder, don't let people see you're blue;
Just cultivate a cast-iron smile of joy the whole day through;
If they call you "Little Sunshine," wish that they'd no troubles, too
You may—grin
Rise up in the morning with the will that, smooth or rough,
You'll grin.
Sink to sleep at midnight, and although you're feeling tough.
Yet grin.
There's nothing gained by whinning and you're not that kind of stuff;
You're a fighter from away back, you won't take a rebuff;
Your trouble is that you don't know when you have had enough—
Don't give in
If fate should down you, just get up and take another cuff;
You may bank on it that there is no philosophy like bluff,
And grin.

MONEY MACHINE FAILS.

It Would Not Work After $5,000 Had Been Paid For It.

Peoria, Ill.—Isaac Deutsch and Myer Katz of West Frankfort, Ill., near here, are facing trial on a charge of operating a confidence game brought by Anton Sorchych of Depue, Ill., who claims Deutsch and Katz sold him a machine to make $20 bills, he paying them $5,000 for the outfit.

According to Sorchych, the machine was to be operated by placing a $20 bill in an aperture and turning a crank. Scores of duplicate certificates came forth. Three thousand were "made" in two weeks. Armed with a shotgun, he is said to have guarded his machine for three days after the men left. He then discovered the device would not work without more bills and brought suit.

NEW AID TO POLICE

Wireless Outfit Installed at New York Headquarters.

HAS A RADIUS OF 250 MILES.

Will Supplant Old System of Wigwagging—Special Motor Cycle Squad to Be Organized Shortly So That Messages May Be Rushed When Urgent.

New York.—A complete wireless outfit has just been installed at police headquarters. Announcement of it was recently made by H. C. Case, secretary to Police Commissioner Arthur Woods. The station has a sending radius of more than 250 miles. It was installed as an aid to the efforts Commissioner Woods is making along the lines of police preparedness.

The station has sent and received messages from Sandy Hook and from incoming and outgoing vessels and could, if necessary, communicate with the government station at Arlington, Va., near Washington.

Nearly 100 private wireless outfits scattered throughout the city have been listed by the police, and headquarters can get into communication with them at any hour of the day or night. A special motorcycle squad will be organized shortly so that in time of need messages could be borne swiftly from these private stations to any point in the city.

Sixteen men on the force, all of them formerly telegraphers, are working now under the direction of Sergeant Charles E. Pearce, himself the holder of a first grade commercial license as operator. When they receive their licenses in the wireless service they will then be used at headquarters and be ready also to go to any station where they may be wanted.

The wireless will supplant the old system of wigwagging, which was the only system of communication the police had to fall back on if the telephone and telegraph failed. By using tall buildings messages could thus be relayed in a comparatively short time to any part of the city.

Along with the preparation within the force itself the Citizens' Home Defense league has been recruited now to a strength of nearly 20,000 men. The members are organized in twenty companies of about a hundred men each and are drilled by their own officers under the direct supervision of the precinct captain. Their names are on cards kept by the captain, and they may be called out by him at any time. It is expected that they will supplement the regular police force in patrolling the city in times of danger.

Some trouble has been found to obtain suitable drill grounds for the league, vacant lots and public schools now being utilized.

Days You'll Never Forget

ALIVE IN ROCK'S CENTER.

Frog May Have Lived There For Centuries—Swelled Up When Freed.

Riverside, Cal.—A live frog, possibly centuries old, was found in the center of a solid granite bowlder which was blasted open at the Bly quarries, five miles west of Riverside.

The frog, still alive, was brought to the chamber of commerce and has been offered to Professor Daggett of the Los Angeles museum. When first exposed to the air and light it was shriveled to about one-third its normal size. Within a few minutes it had swollen until its skin was puffed almost to bursting.

It blinks with perfect froglike intelligence and devoured a couple of flies that were offered as though they were familiar food.

The frog closely resembles the present generation of frogs, differing only in the shape of its head and in its hind quarters. It is lighter in shade than the ordinary frog and is about two and one-half inches long and two inches across the back.

PATRIARCH OF PYTHIANISM GIVES MEMORIAL ADDRESS

Notable Services Held at Grace M. E. Church, Sunday Afternoon, By Confidence Lodge—Beautiful Oration Delivered By Man Who Wrote the Ritual—Church Packed.

Between 200 and 300 Knights of Pythias from this and surrounding towns, took part in the annual memorial services of Confidence Lodge, Knights of Pythias, Sunday afternoon, when Mr. Walter B. Richie, patriarch of Pythianism, delivered the memorial oration at Grace M. E. church.

The graves of nearly sixty Knights at rest in the Washington cemetery were decorated by a committee Sunday morning, a great profusion of beautiful flowers being furnished for that purpose.

Sunday afternoon the Knights assembled at the Castle Hall of Confidence Lodge and marched in a body to Grace church, where the entire first floor of the auditorium had been reserved for the Knights.

The parade was headed by the color bearers, the Washington Band, Maynard Company, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, Bloomingburg Company, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias; the subordinate lodge members and automobiles bearing the speaker and lodge officials.

At the church the entire balcony was packed and after the Knights filed in, each wearing the symbolic sprig of myrtle, all vacant seats left were quickly filled up by visitors, which included many out-of-town persons drawn here by the orator of the day.

On the stage with Mr. Richie were Rev. Stone, Rev. Gage, Hon. C. A. Reid, Attorneys H. M. Rankin and A. C. Patton, A. L. Brakefield, H M. Kingsbury and Hon. A. R. Creamer.

The program opened with an organ number by Miss Light, followed with singing by the choir, invocation by Rev. Stone and beautiful solos by Miss Edith Gardner and Miss Louise Larrimer.

Mr. Reid presided over the meeting, and after a few most appropriate remarks, introduced the speaker, Walter B. Richie, the man who wrote the splendid ritual of the Knights of Pythias, a former Supreme Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, and who is the best known and foremost member of the order now living.

Mr. Richie's oration teemed with beautiful thoughts, many of which were quoted literally from the Ritual which he penned. He pleaded with his brother Knights to incorporate the teachings of the Ritual into their every day life; to scatter roses to the living as well as to the dead; to visit the sick and afflicted and speak words of cheer; not to shrink from the home of a friend when that home is visited by the angel of death, but point out the "stars of hope which shine beyond."

He laid particular emphasis upon the True Knight in the home, and what that home will be if the member of the order is a True Knight—that the teachings of the order are for the protection of the home and the uplifting of mankind in the exemplification of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence, concluding his remarks with the words "So that when you come to the brink of the river that marks the boundary of the Unknown land, your hands may be filled with deeds of charity and of love—the golden keys that open the portals of the Palace of Eternity."

His words made a profound impression upon all who heard him, and the beautiful words of the Ritual had a new meaning to the Knights who heard him.

After Mr. Richie's address, short ritualistic services were conducted by the lodge officers, and Mr. Reid made a brief talk in conclusion, after which Rev. Gage pronounced a benediction and the services were at an end.

At the Hall after the services Mr. Richie again addressed the Knights making another notable address in which he stated that his pleas were now for a more thorough application of the ritual, so that as a person took the successive degrees they would know and understand each more thoroughly .

CUTTING AFFRAY IN WHICH BLOOD FLOWS FREELY

Jack Taylor and Blaine Hurley Engage in Ugly Fight Sunday Afternoon and Taylor, Who Is Alleged to Have Started the Trouble, Is Worsted.

A cutting affray in which blood poured freely, occurred at the barber shop back of the Arlington Hotel stairway, when Jack Taylor and Laine Hurley, both colored, became engaged in a scrap in which it is claimed Taylor was the aggressor.

The fight is said to have started over a checker game when Taylor struck Hurley or kicked the checker board over. The affair seems to have started in a joking manner and quickly developed into a rough and tumble fight in which Hurley wielded a knife, inflicting a great gash on Taylor's neck and another across the arm, receiving a badly cut and bruised ear in return.

Taylor made his way to the office of a physician where the ugly wounds were closed, after which he is said to have left town and was last seen entering Bloomingburg.

Hurley was arrested under a charge of cutting with intent to kill and released upon his own recognizance.

Taylor was still at large Monday.

GEORGE CULBERSON SENTENCED TO WORKS

A week ago when George Culberson was before Probate Judge Allen for non-support, he was informed that he must get busy and stay sober or go to the workhouse on a $300 fine imposed for non-support.

Once the edict was pronounced Judge Allen did not ask the man for a promise, but having told him what would happen, dismissed the matter.

Saturday Culberson was picked up in an intoxicated condition and is said to have been that way for several days. Judge Allen lost no time in preparing papers for the man's committment to the Xenia works and he was taken to that institution on the Monday morning train.

The action is expected to be a lesson to all such offenders.

GOOD WORK OF THE LOCAL FEDERATION

The result of the Saturday meeting, attended by State Highway Commissioner Cowan is another of a series of "feathers in the cap" of the Fayette County Good Roads Federation, and the result is most gratifying to a large number of persons.

At the meeting at the court house Saturday, Chairman James Ford presided, and Mr. Cowan, after hearing the matter presented, addressed the large number of men present, stating that this year Fayette was receiving some $40,000 from the state for road improvement, and adding about $12,000 from this county for state aid work, and no further funds were available this year.

He further said that if temporary improvements are made on the road he would be glad to take the matter up with the county commissioners and pave the road to Good Hope pike next year, as the pike is one of the Main Market roads, and it is desired to get all such roads improved as well and as quickly as possible. He said funds would be available by February of next year.

HABITUAL DRUNKS SENT TO WORKHOUSE

Bay Hause and John Barker, habitual drunks, were sent to the workhouse Monday morning after failure to pay an old fine and a new one on charges of intoxication.

The two men will be kept in the institution 30 days or longer.

VANDALISM DUE TO BEER PARTY

A beer party was pulled off at the McLean school house two miles west of this city, Saturday night, and after the beer had been consumed the parties taking part in the affair proceeded to hurl the bottles through the windows of the school building, smashing nearly every window in the building and resulting in considerable loss.

The affair is being investigated and if the persons who threw the bottles are located, they will be prosecuted for the malicious destruction of property.

It is understood the persons committng the crime were in an automobile and had gotten their supply of booze at the express office in this city a short time before the nefarious work was done.

MAKING PLANS FOR BIG SUMMER CAMP

The annual Y. M. C. A. camp for boys will be held this year July 6 to 20th, inclusive. The place will be "Cold Springs," on Paint Creek near Bainbridge. Arrangements have already been made for twenty boys, but present plans can be stretched to accommodate any number that plan to go. All boys who are sure of going will make arrangements at the earliest possible date, so that plans can be made accordingly.

This camp will be open to both members and non-members. A charge of $3.00 a week will include everything. Boys who desire it will be given a chance to work for all or a part of their expenses. There is a limited number of these jobs and it will be necessary to apply early to be sure of getting one.

W. H. MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society will meet in the parlors of Grace church on Wednesday, June 14th, at 2:30 p. m. The assisting hostesses are: Mesdames Hughey, Stuckey, Noble, Girard, James Hays, Tysor, Misses Light and Gardner.

DEATH COMES TO WELL KNOWN FAMILY

After months of illness, bravely borne, Mrs. Caroline Henkle, widow of the late C. W. Henkle, and mother of Messrs A. C. Henkle, A. E. Henkle and Mrs. James Perrill, of this city, passed quietly away at her home in Mt. Sterling Sunday morning at half past four o'clock.

The Henkle family has been among tnose of long residence in this county and is widely known.

Throughout a life of Christian usefulness and the utmost devotion to her home Mrs. Henkle made many and warm friends, especially in the Jasper neighborhood of her earlier residence, who will learn of her death wit hmuch regret.

She is survived by ten children, a number of grandchildren and three greatgrandchildren. Her husband died in 1895 and her brother, Mr. John Henkle, a year later.

The children living are A. C. Henkle, A. E. Henkle, Mrs. James Perrill of this city; J. S. Henkle, Orvis and Guy of Chicago; S. L. Henkle of Holland, Mich.; Mrs. James Lily of Columbus; Mrs. Robert Schryver and Miss Lily Henkle of Mt. Sterling.

Throughout these months of illness the children have been most devoted to their mother and are all at the home to attend the funeral.

The services will be held at the residence in Mt. Sterling at 1:30 p. m., Tuesday. The interment will be made in the family lot in the Washington cemetery, the sad party expecting to reach here at 3:45 to 4:00 o'clock the same afternoon.

REVISION BOARD NOW IN SESSION

CLASS PLEASED WITH DR. MILLER

More than 200 heard the lesson expounded before the Men's Bible Class of Grace church Sunday morning, by the teacher of Lancaster's big class, Dr. C. C. Miller.

Dr. Miller's teaching is marked by its simplicity and clearness and its close application to every-day problems of life.

After Dr. Miller's appearance before the class it was easy to see why he had been selected to teach the Lancaster class.

Dr. Miller was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. J. V. Stone while in the city.

MUSIC, FLOWERS, BLUE SKIES AND HAPPY CHILDREN

All Contribute to Make Children's Day a Very Happy One in Several Local Churches—Delightful Programs Are Largely Attended.

Children's Day, always a festival of the utmost attraction to old as well as young, was celebrated in three of the city's churches Sunday, with large crowds of interested spectators. The first of the services was held at the Presbyterian Church.

At the regular Sunday School hour a beautiful program of songs, pantomines, drills and recitations was put on under the direction of Miss Mazie Kessler assisted by Misses Edna Hamm, Gladys Butcher pianist, and Emily Palmer.

The stage presented a picturesque summer garden, with white lattice work, trimmed with oak leaves, the back ground for tall vases of red and white carnations, the oak leaves screened the chancel rail and decked the sides of the stage.

The program was opened with processional by the children as they formed on the stage for two songs.

Christine Meirs gave a pleasing address of welcome and recitations were well given by Richard Grove, Willard Mitchener, Jack Persinger, Wilheimina Sprenger, Katharine, Persinger, Harold Thompson, Loring Thompson, Robert Parret, Albert Bryant, Herbert Sprenger.

Grace Church.

A pink and white color ssheme was carried out in quantities of peonies effectively filling a lattice work of green which rose in front of the altar, covered with white as was also the floor, the radiators were also masked in green, surmounted with bowls of the peonies.

Miss Lousie Weaver had charge of the program assisted by Misses Dorothy Saxton and Ruth Brownell and Messrs A. W. Duff and Geo. Bryant in the decorating. Misses Ruth McCoy and Marion Christopher played.

The primary department delighted the audience with their exercises including pretty recitations by Mary McLean and Jean Worthington and song by Florence Mabel Sparks.

The usual baptismal service was held.

First Baptist.

In the evening the First Baptist church presented their delightful entertainment in charge of Mrs. Howard McLean, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Hicks, Mrs. Wesley DeWees and Mrs. Albert Snider.

The decorations were artistic, the baptistry banked in with greenery and syringa with fountain playing in the center. In honor of the approaching flag day there was a center pole on the platform with streamers of red, white and blue and ten little girles gave a taking flag drill, pulling the ribbons of the pole to make a big wheel of national colors.

Lillian Guddel gave a captivating musical recitation; three little boys, Kenneth Carr, Richard McLean and Vincent Carr, were cute in 'Taps' and Katharine Buchler, Virginia Keaton, Donna Buchler and Wayne McCune recitations and Lena Householder and Madonna Dabe sang prettily.

Piano duets were played by Sarah DeWees, Madonna Dabe, Gertrude Miller and Dorothy Wyatt.

Miss Marie Melvin was taken to the Fayette Hospital with a sudden attack of appendicitis Saturday night. An operation was deemed necessary and was performed by Dr. Drury of Columbus Sunday evening. Friends will be glad to know that physicians report that she is doing as well as possible.

In Social Circles

Miss Winona DeWitt, the attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeWitt, and Mr. Frank Thornton, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Thornton, were quietly married by Rev. J. Vernon Stone at the Grace M. E. parsonage at eight o'clock Saturday evening.

The announcement comes as a surprise to the many friends of the contracting parties and they are receiving heartsome congratulations galore.

Both bride and bridegroom are graduates of the local high school, the bride supplementing her high school course with summer school and the bridegroom with a course at Bliss College in Columbus.

Mr. Thornton is now filling with competency and courtesy the position of B. & O. ticket agent in this city and the future home of the young couple will be made for the present with the bride's parents on Washington avenue.

Complimenting their house guest, Mrs. A. L. Slavens, of New York, and also Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Westerfield of New Orleans, La., Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Maynard gave a pleasurable little chafing dish supper of artistic appointments. The additional guests were Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Hughey, Miss Ustick and Mr. Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rodgers and Mrs. M. F. Stuckey entertained at an enjoyable dinner Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gardner, and two sons of Toledo, Mrs. C. E. Link and two children of Akron.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Smith gave a delightful birthday dinner Sunday in honor of the fifth birthday of their handsome little son, Ancil Clyde.

The table was beautifully decorated with a profusion of roses and peonies and a large birthday cake with blazing candles, and delicious courses served.

Seated with Mr. and Mrs. Smith and the young honor guest were Mrs. Lena Backenstoe, Mr. and Mrs. John Tillett and grandson Willard Carl Lanum, Mr. and Mrs. Jud Clark, Miss Jennie Clark, Charlene Smith and Waco Patton.

ST. LOUIS IS MECCA OF DEMS.

Leaders and Delegates Arriving For Convention.

WILL RENOMINATE WILSON

National Chairman McCombs Will Call the Assemblage to Order Wednesday Noon and Temporary Chairman Glynn Will Strike the Keynote. Important Planks of the Platform. Candidates For Second Place.

St. Louis, June 12.—This city is the Mecca of Democracy. Thousands of visitors, including party leaders and delegates, arrived during the day to be in attendance upon the Democratic national convention, which meets here Wednesday to nominate candidates for president and vice president and draw up the party's declaration of principles.

While the matter of nominating a candidate for president will lie in the mere formality of placing President Wilson before the delegates, the matter of the platform is engaging the serious consideration of the arriving leaders. The big struggles are expected to be over the preparedness, prohibition and suffrage planks. William J. Bryan and Eugene N. Foss, formerly governor of Massachusetts, are expected to join in trying to induce their friends to have an absolute prohibition plank incorporated in the platform.

The convention will be called to order at noon on Wednesday by National Chairman William F. McCombs. Martin H. Glynn of New York will deliver the temporary chairman's address. After a session of two or three hours adjournment will be taken until Thursday noon, after which time Senator James of Kentucky will take the gavel as permanent chairman, deliver an address and receive the reports of the permanent committees, the platform being the most important work. It will be reported and read by Senator William J. Stone of Missouri.

Adjournment will then be taken until Friday noon and the afternoon of June 16 will be devoted to Mr. Westcott's speech renaming President Wilson. The leaders on the ground believe that the president will be renominated on Friday evening and that Vice President Marshall will be renominated Friday night some time before midnight.

There is a disposition on the part of the national committeemen and delegates to resent a remark frequently heard to the effect that so far as the platform is concerned the book is closed. It is admitted that President Wilson will "suggest" the idea of most of the planks, but it is maintained that his frequent conferences with Senator William J. Stone and with members of the cabinet is an ardent indication of his intention not to dictate what shall be done here.

The Platform.

When the platform is ready for the convention it is expected that it will represent an expansion of that adopted by the Missouri Democratic convention. That particular platform was written by National Chairman William F. McCombs, it was learned, and it is agreed that when the president and Senator Stone have brought to bear on it their intimate knowledge of the matters with which it deals the finished document will give the country not only a competent review of what has been accomplished by the party, but also some indications of the motives that have actuated the president and his advisers in adopting certain policies.

This will be particularly true, it is asserted, in the case of the Mexican problem. It was pointed out by one who is in the confidence of the president that he has designedly refrained from telling the country why he did certain things, or did not do certain things, in Mexico, and the information was vouchsafed that when the president did speak, either through the platform or on some later occasion, his justification of his Mexican policy would answer completely the charge that his Mexican policy has been a failure.

So far as the issue of Americanism is concerned, one hears in St. Louis little more than the assertion that the Republican party has no monopoly of patriotism, and that the Democratic document will go just as far as its expression of loyalty to the fundamental traditions of this country as that of the Republican party does.

There is much more interest displayed as to what will take place in the national committee after the nominations are made. Chairman William F. McCombs is anxious to retire. The committeemen want to name one of their company—Homer Cummins of Connecticut—for chairman. There continues to be talk, however, of Colonel Edward M. House, the president's advisers.

The program is to renominate Vice President Marshall, but there are several persons who want the honor. Missouri has a candidate in Governor Major. Nebraska offers Governor Moorehead. Roger Sullivan of Illinois insists that he is not joking in putting up his name, and Senator Owen of Oklahoma would not refuse a renomination. The far west seeks recognition.

TO CONFER WITH THE LEADERS

Nominee Hughes Leaves For New York City.

ABOUT TO OPEN THE FIGHT

Proposed Conferences May Have an Important Bearing On the Campaign—Meeting Between Hughes and Colonel Roosevelt Not Unlikely. Many Problems Engaging the Attention of the Candidate.

The announcement, which was made there by Justice Hughes or his secretary, immediately gave rise to many surmises, in view of the fact that the thought of harmonizing the hitherto discordant elements of the Republican party is uppermost in the minds of many leaders.

To this wish Justice Hughes himself gave expression in his message of acceptance to Chairman Harding of the Republican convention. "I sincerely trust," he said, "that all former differences may be forgotten and that we may have united effort in a patriotic realization of our national need and opportunity."

The circumstances under which Mr. Hughes make his hurried trip to New York and the report that George W. Wickersham, former attorney general, after conferring with the Republican nominee last week, made a hurried trip to Oyster Bay, gave rise to the belief that conferences which may have an important bearing upon the campaign may be under contemplation, if a meeting between Mr. Hughes and Colonel Roosevelt himself is not in prospect.

There are many problems to engage the attention of Mr. Hughes outside the healing of the breach that has existed in the Republican party. A chairman of the national committee is to be selected. The methods of campaign are to be decided upon. His own household plans for the forthcoming summer are to be worked out.

The flood of messages of congratulations seems to be unchecked. They were so many that it is almost an impossibility for Justice Hughes to read them all. None of them was given out for publication.

Mr. Hughes when informed officially Saturday by Chairman Warren G. Harding that he had been chosen as the standard bearer of his party, immediately tendered his resignation as associate justice of the United States and wired to Chicago an acceptance of the honor. High spots in his acceptance telegram follow:

"I stand for the firm and unflinching maintenance of all the rights of American citizens on land and sea. In our foreign relations we have suffered incalculably from the weak and vacillating course which has been taken with regard to Mexico. At the outset of the administration we presented to the world a humiliating spectacle of inaptitude. I stand for an Americanism that knows no ulterior purpose; for a patriotism that is single and complete. Whether native or naturalized, of whatever race or creed, we have but one country, and we do not for an instant tolerate any division of allegiance. I believe in preparedness. We must have the strength which self-respect demands—the strength of an efficient nation ready for every emergency. Our preparation must be industrial and economic, as well as military. We must have a fair and wise readjustment of the tariff. We must conserve the just interests of labor. We must be zealous to assure the foundations of honest business. We must not throttle American industry here or abroad."

HOME TROUBLE

(By American Press)

London, June 12.—The proposal made by Mr. Lloyd-George to the Irish party meeting include provisions for an imperial conference, which shall include representatives from all the dominions, to meet immediately after the war to consider the government of the empire, including Ireland.

The official report of the meeting gives Mr. Lloyd-George's proposals as follows: First, the immediate operation of home rule; second, the introduction immediately of an amending bill as a war emergency act; third, during the war the Irish members are to remain at Westminster and the six Ulster counties are left under the imperial government; fourth, immediately after the war an imperial conference of representatives from all the dominions will consider the government of the empire, including Ireland; fifth, immediately afterwards and during the war emergency interval the permanent settlement of all the great outstanding problems shall be proceeded with.

THEY'RE THERE

(By American Press)

St. Louis, June 12.—Disappointed, but not dismayed, by the result of their labors at the Republican convention, women suffragists began pouring into St. Louis to insist on a full-fledged equal rights plank in the Democratic platform.

Regarding their failure to induce the Republicans to indorse suffrage by constitutional amendments as a temporary setback, the suffrage leaders insisted that good might come of the situation. Democratic leaders, they argued, should take action to capture the very large woman vote in the suffrage states.

A declaration for woman suffrage in the Democratic platform, suffrage leaders insisted, would mean added thousands of votes for President Wilson and the rest of the ticket this fall.

AWFUL CRIME

(By American Press)

Pittsburgh, June 12.—Crumpled in the bottom of an automobile, his pockets turned inside out and private papers scattered about, the body of William H. McCreary, a well known musician, was found in a field on the outskirts of the city. Detectives are looking for five unidentified men who were seen with McCreary. McCreary, who made a practice of carrying large sums of money, is believed to have been drugged and then left to die after being robbed.

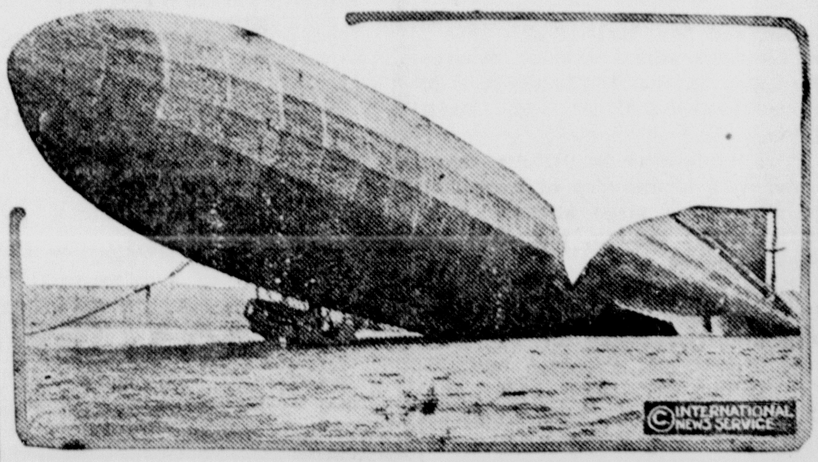

WHO'LL MANAGE

(By American Press)

Chicago, June 12.—Five names are mentioned as possible candidates for chairman of the Republican national committee and manager of the Hughes and Fairbanks campaign. The names mentioned were: Frank H. Hitchcock of New York, Ralph E. Williams of Oregon, Joseph B. Kealing of Indiana, Fred C. Tanner of New York and Charles B. Warren of Michigan. The committee will soon confer with Mr. Hughes.

SWEEPING ON

(By American Press)

London, June 12.—From the wooded region of southwestern Russia to the Roumanian frontier the Russians are keeping up their tremendous offensive against the Austro-Hungarians, who have been reinforced on several sectors by Germans. The advance of the Russians is notable for the large number of prisoners reported taken and the enormous captures of guns, machine guns, ammunition and other war stores. In the week that has elapsed since they first threw their attacks against the Austrians, the Russians report that they have captured approximately 108,000 officers and men and forced back the organized lines of their antagonists from the region of the Volaynian fortress triangle to Roumania.

LANSING REFUSES THE CARRANZA NOTE DEMANDS

Anti-American Feeling In Mexico Cause of Apprehension.

Washington, June 12.—Official reports from all parts of the Mexican republic indicate a rapid spreading of the flame of anti-American feeling. The Carranza government, which advices to the state department indicate, is nearer than ever to the brink of a complete collapse, is either powerless to suppress the demonstrations that are taking place, or is making no effort to suppress them. Five different factions are at present operating independently of the de facto government, all of which, apparently, are taking advantage of the presence of American troops on Mexican soil to undermine Carranza.

Although both the state and war departments were without any fresh advices, it is feared that at any moment news will be received of an attack on American citizens somewhere in Mexico. The state department has been advised that a Pacific coast mail steamer is due at Acapuco, on the west coast, to take off the American refugees there and arrangements have been made for the vessel to perform a similar service at Salina Cruz. No report has been received concerning the Americans still at Chihuahua, who made efforts to leave, following the attack there on the American consulate.

It is now expected that Secretary Lansing's reply to the Carranza demand for a withdrawal of the American forces will be dispatched to Mexico City within the next few days. It is understood to have been completed and is said to contain a refusal to comply with the demand for an immediate withdrawal.

FRENCH REPEL

(By American Press)

Paris, June 12.—Three German infantry attacks against the French trenches on Hill 304 and the positions east of that elevation in the Verdun sector were completely checked by the French troops, says the official statement issued at the French war department. Two German detachments penetrated the French advanced trenches in the forest of Apremont, southeast of St. Mihiel, the statement adds, but were later ejected.

Home Ties.

A sedate banker of Hamilton, Canada, was sitting in his office one morning when his ten-year-old hopeful drifted in, bearing with him an expression of unutterable gloom.

"Anything gone wrong, boy?" interrogated the financier. "Why, at your age you ought to be cheerful all the time."

"I know it, Frank; I know it," responded the youngster. "I'm doin' the best I can; but, honest, I had a terrible time up at the house with your wife this morning."—Saturday Evening Post.

THE BIG SHOW COMES TUESDAY

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:15 o'clock will mark the opening of the tanbark sawdust and spangled season at Washington C. H.

For months the Sells-Floto circus cohorts have been diligently rehearsing the long program and all is now in readiness. This show will start off with an entirely new spectacle, "America." America, the greatest nation of all the great world, portrayed in spectacle form as the wondrous possessions of the Sells-Floto circus, Champion Shows of the World, trail their way in stately procession around the hippodrome track. The costumes and all properties are entirely new, and the resources of the circus in horses, elephants, camels,etc., are drawn upon to the fullest extent.

After the spectacle will come the purely circus features, and for a matter of over two hours the three rings, two stages and track will be scenes of kaleidoscope activity.

There will be Jess Willard, champion pugilist of the world, who will make his appearance galloping at the head of the Buffalo Bill cowboys. Incidently he will give an exhibition with his sparring partner, illustrating just how he won the championship. Then there will be Frank Gotch, wrestling champion of the world, who will demonstrate how he has conquered all contestants.

Rosa Rosaland, champion somersault equestrienne of the world—she is the only woman to master the feat of somersaulting from horse to horse. Zora, the champion woman elephant trainer, who appears at every performance with her thirty tons of elephants.

The menagerie will be found to be most interesting, and among the new features here will be found "Toyland" where surrounded by the beloved figures of the Mother Goose ryhme, the babies of the circus await the acquaintance of the babies of humanity.

Babies of the animal kingdom in its every branch are there, from baby kid gloves goats from France to the baby lions of Africa and the baby elephants of India, all will be as glad to see the children as the children will be to see them.

MRS. EDISON RAPS ABBREVIATED SKIRTS.

Hundreds Present When Inventor's Wife Hits Clothing—Urges Girls to Be Modest.

New York.—Hundreds of women recently heard well known women who were delegates to the National Federation of Women's Clubs convention discuss dress—the right and wrong kind of dress, the future dress and the cost of dress. All the speakers advocated greater individuality in dress.

Mrs. Thomas A. Edison made an appeal for greater modesty in dress, particularly of young women, and in no unmistakable terms assailed clothing which, she said, tended to lead sons down to degradation. She denounced "the present abbreviated skirts and uncovered shoulders," saying: "I had a father who frequently reminded me 'Daughter, be modest.' I think this would be good advice to our girls today."

Her husband, Mrs. Edison said, had declared there was not more than one woman in a hundred who was well dressed.

HOSTESSES ROBBED AS SHE FIXES HAIR

Young Girl Is Credited With New Way of Gathering Jewels In New York.

Mount Vernon, N. Y.—A young woman who has a new method of robbery is being sought by the police of this city, New Rochelle, White Plains and Yonkers. She is a very pretty girl, about twenty years old and expensively attired.

Her method of obtaining jewels, hand bags, purses and anything else of value, which has been the same in all places, is explained by Mrs. Edgar B. Davis of 134 Eleventh avenue, Mount Vernon.

While the Davis family was at luncheon the girl called at their home and introduced herself as a friend of Fred Goodell, a cousin of Mrs. Davis, who lives in Bridgeport, and said that Goodell had sent her to Mrs. Davis to wait there until he called with an automobile and they would go for a ride.

She declined an invitation to partake of the luncheon, but asked if she could go to a bedroom to dress her hair. Mrs. Davis sent her to her own room and returned to her meal. Half an hour later it was discovered the girl had fled and that Mrs. Davis had lost $250 in jewels from her bedroom.

In each place the girl represents that she is to wait for some relative of the family who is to call for her.

HORSE IS SOLE HEIR TO $42,707 LEGACY

No Other Pets Found to Enjoy Comforts Ordered In New York Woman's Will.

New York.—The appraisal of the estate of Mrs. Edith Rogers Gellatly, who died on July 17, 1913, at 34 West Fifty-seventh street, and who was the wife of John Gellatly, an insurance broker, shows that while she left the income from stocks valued at $42,707 for the care of her horses and dogs, the only animal she owned at the time of her death was a horse at White Plains, appraised at $700.

In making the bequest Mrs. Gellatly directed that upon the death of her pets the principal of the fund and the unused income should be used by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in finding homes for animals and in preventing cruelty.

Mrs. Gellatly, who was the daughter of Columbus Rogers, disposed of an individual estate of $580,704 net, and a trust fund of $702,201, set aside for her in her father's will. She gave $1,166,271 to her husband and $80,926 to her sister, Ella A. Rogers.

HELD UP BY BEAR.

Cub Refused to Move Until Auto Went at Top Speed.

Ogdensburg, N. Y.—David Barber, a traveling salesman, was held up recently by a cub bear near Loon lake while driving from Malone to Saranac Lake. Barber thought the bear was a dog. The animal sat in the middle of the road and refused to move out of the path of the automobile.

Mr. Barber alighted from his car to see what was the matter with the animal. He approached close enough to see that it was a bear and then reversed his direction. He hastily jumped into his car and speeded up the engine, the noise of which so disturbed the bear that it ambled off into the bushes. "I wasn't afraid of the bear, but I didn't want any extended interviews with Mother Bear," said Barber.

LOSES WOODEN LEG.

Olympia, N. Y.—While the breaking of a leg ordinarily would be classed as a permanent partial disability under the workmen's compensation act, this is not true with a wooden leg, the industrial insurance commission recently decided.

In the blank marked "Nature of injury," Stark's claim says, "Busted wooden leg; never will get well."

NORTON QUITS AS CANDIDATE

Cleveland Man Who Entered for Governor Notifies Hildebrant That He Is Out.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., June 12.—Miner G. Norton, Republican, of Cleveland, today wrote to Secretary of State Hildebrant, withdrawing as a candidate for Governor. His declaration of candidacy was filed last week.

Mr. Norton's letter of withdrawal stated that he had intended being a candidate for Governor had Governor Willis been nominated for the vice-presidency last week.

SPRAGUE LAW FINALLY OUT

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 12.—The Supreme Court today affirmed the action of the Ohio Supreme Court in holding that the Sprague Congressional redistricting law, enacted by the 1915 Legislature, had been repealed by an adverse referendum vote of the people.

Chief Justice White for the court held that the point that a republican form of government was denied by allowing referendum vote on a law passed by a legislature, was one for Congress to consider and not for the courts.

He further held that Congress had expressly amended the federal "apportionment" act so that the referendum might be applied by the states to apportionment laws.

Washington, June 12.—Roy Claflin, District of Columbia member of the Progressive National Committee today telegraphed Colonel Roosevelt urging him to make final his tentative refusal of the Progressive nomination for the presidency and declaring for Hughes.

A JOINT CONFERENCE ON R. R. DISTURBANCE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, June 12.—The railroads' committee told the representatives of 350,000 employers they would compromise by giving them an 8-hour day providing the double compensation rule is wiped out.

The joint conference has adjourned to consider the proposal of the railroads.

SAFETY FIRST

That is a motto that everyone should follow as closely as possible.

One way to do this is to use "Killo," which destroys bugs, and germs of all kinds. Sprinkled in garbage pails and all breeding places of flies, which are great carriers of disease, it will destroy the egg and drive away the pest.

It sweetens, purifies and disinfects. Is non-poisonous and should be used in every home. Price 15c per can. Ask your grocer for it.

ROBINS COUNSELS PATIENCE

Chairman Ickes Leaves for Oyster Bay to Have "A Talk" With T. R.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, June 12. — Raymond Robins, chairman of the Progressive National Convention, and Harold Ickes, Progressive National Committeeman for Illinois, will leave tomorrow or Wednesday for Oyster Bay to talk over the party situation with Colonel Roosevelt.

Mr. Ikes said the National Committee was "all at sea."

In a joint statement issued today Robins and Ickes counselled Progressives to await patiently the meeting of the National Committee June 26, when it will be decided what action the party will take.

The statement said:

"Wise and loyal Progressives will wait until their national committee reports, June 26, before taking individual action in the present crisis.

"Let us be patient. Resentment is a poor counsellor. The needs of the country demand judgment as well as enthusiasm."

APPLICATION IS DENIED VIRGINIA

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 12.—The Supreme Court today denied the petition of the Commonwealth of Virginia for an immediate order to the court marshal to sell property of the State of W. Virginia to satisfy the $12,000,000 judgment against the latter in the Virginia-West Virginia debt case.

WILLARD WILL WELCOME DAY HE LOSES BELT

World Champion Who Will Be Here Tomorrow Dislikes to Be "Lamped" and Is Weary of Traveling About—Is Strictly a Home Man.

Jess Willard, world's champion heavyweight boxer who will be in this city tomorrow and will give exhibitons at each performance of the Selis-Floto Circus. will welcome the day somebody comes along and takes that big title from him.This may be a big surprise to a lot of sport fans, but Jess won't weep if he loses the championship, as away down deep in his heart he is tired of it.

Just now Willard is making a lot of money out of the title. His salary with the Sells-Floto circus is of such size that the average bank president's income sinks into insignificance alongside it and Jess, being a man of simple tastes, finds himself accumulating wealth at a rapid gait.

In order to get the money, however, as he is now doing, he is compelled to be away from his family all of the time. Since Jess is a home man and loves his family above anything in the world he is tired of chasing around with the show.

Then when he goes home the situation is even worse. Because of his enormous size he can go nowhere without attracting attention. It is almost impossible for him to go to a theater without breaking up the show so intent is the crowd upon getting a look at him. He cannot take his wife into a public restaurant and enjoy a meal in comfort, so constantly does the throng flock around him. Auto trips are uncomfortable for the same reason.

Willard has enough of the world's goods at the present time to keep him in comfort the remainder of his life. He often has said that all he wants to make sure of is that his family, now consisting of three girls and two boys, will have plenty of everything. So he wants to spend some time in comfort and that is why he won't be sorry when somebody else becomes champion.

FREE SWIMMING LESSONS ARE GIVEN

The Y. M. C. A. is making it possible for every boy in Washington C. H. to learn to swim. Free swimming coupons are being printed in The Herald. Clip one of these and present it to the swimming instructor at the Y. M. C. A., and be given one lesson free of charge. This opportunity is offered, especially for those who are not members of the Y. M. C. A.

Classes will begin Tuesday at 9:00 a. m., and will be held on Tuesdays and Fridays for members, and on Thursdays and Saturdays for non-members. Seven thousand people in the United States drown each year because they cannot swim.

COMPLAINT ARISES OVER ROAD REPAIR

People along the Greenfield pike and who travel that road are making complaint over the present condition of the thoroughfare, where a large amount of crushed stone has been dumped in the middle of the pike and left without further attention than that given it at the time it was placed there.

As a result of the road's present condition numerous machines have slipped into the ditch while trying to get past the stone.

FAVORABLE COMMENT ON CITY HEAT

In the homes where city heat is installed there is great appreciation of the fact that during the cold spell of last week the Washington Gas & Electric Co. supplied these homes with heat.

The season closed the last of May and the voluntary consideration of the management in opening its plant again that patrons could be comfortable during the very unusual temperature of June has aroused much favorable comment.

This is only the second time since the installation of the plant that patrons have been favored so late in the season.

ADVANCE BUNCH ARRIVE IN ST. LOUIS

National Committee Begins Its Preliminary Session to Pass Upon Credentials of Delegations.

Bryan Expected to Address the Assembled Democrats on Thursday.

Secretary of War Baker Will Be the President's Personal Representative in the Convention.

Platform to Be Left Largely to President.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

St. Louis, June 12. — Members of the Democratic National Committee met here today to pass on final arrangements for the convention, opening June 14, when 1,092 delegates will name the national Democratic ticket.

Five contests are before the committee, involving seats of the national committeemen from the District of Columbia, Hawaii and Texas and the seats of the delegates from Hawaii and six delegates from the District of Columbia.

Chairman McCombs stated speedy adjustment of the contests and a short session of the committee was probable.

The chairman announced a revised program of the convention.

The first session will be on Wednesday, when the keynote address will be delivered and committees appointed.

The permanent chairman will address the convention on Thursday and other speeches will be delivered, probably including one by William Jennings Bryan.

The platform will be presented Friday morning, and on Friday night the nomination will be made.

The principal planks of the platform will relate to foreign relations, the Mexican situation, preparedness and tariff.

It will be asserted that in a time of unprecedented conditions, President Wilson has maintained a "strict and honest" neutrality and has kept us out of strife.

The Mexican plank will develop that this question should be approached with an idea of keeping peace with the Mexican Republic, and to the interest of maintaining peace within the Mexican borders.

The platform will assert that the Democratic administration has advanced adequate preparedness measures.

The tariff plank will point out that the reductions of tariff duty have met the demands, so that the income from that source in normal times will meet the demands of the government, an achievement of the Democratic Party.

President Wilson is understood to have been invited by the committee to name the permanent chairman and that Homer Cummings, of Connecticut, will probably be selected.

The big vessel, which was christened by Mrs. Grandville S. Fleece, cost $1,425,000.

REPUBLICAN NOMINEE VISITS NEW YORK CITY

After Six Years of Inactivity Justice Hughes Plunges at Once Into the Arena of Politics.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, June 12.—The first organized political move in the furtherance of the campaign for the election of Charles E. Hughes, was announced today upon the arrival of the Republican candidate here from Washington.

It was the revival of the Hughes alliance, an organization of Hughes Republicans, Democrats and independent voters who came into existence during the second campaign of Hughes for Governor of New York in 1908.

Whitney said that the same men who were identified with the Hughes alliance had decided to get together to work in New York state for the election of the candidate, probably under the name of the Hughes Non-Partisan League and in co-operation with the regular Republican organization.

Mr. Hughes, after six years of inactivity in politics, has plunged into the presidential campaign without awaiting formal notification of his nomination.

Plans for the campaign, selection of a national committee chairman and questions to be emphasized in the official notification are to be discussed today at his conference with G. O. P. leaders.

Mr. Hughes received newspaper men this afternoon. He was asked how he felt "to be drafted for the biggest job in the world."

"I can only say," he replied, "there are certain circumstances under which a matter of duty is supremely clear and which leaves no ground for hesitancy in this case.

"There was no question in this situation as to what I should do. I did it. And in my announcement to the people I endeavored to make my attitude clear."

He will leave Washington tonight for St. Louis, carrying with him a practically complete draft of the platform, including the important planks written by the President himself for the consideration of the Platform Committee.

Suffragists have planned an unique silent demonstration to the convention. Several thousand women, dressed in white with yellow sashes and carrying yellow parasols, will form a "golden lane" and stand in silence as the delegates pass between their lines.

MORGENTHAU ACTIVE

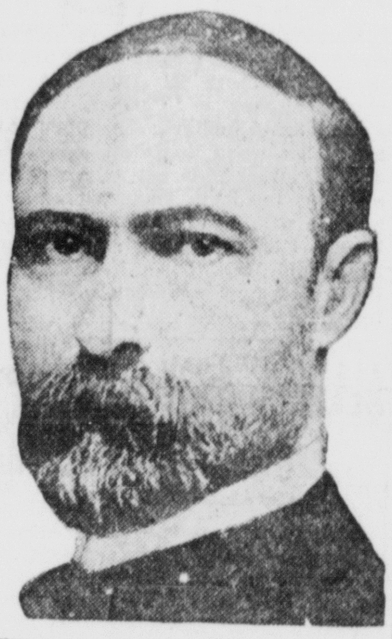

Henry Morgenthau, former Ambassador to Turkey, who resigned to go into the campaign and who will handle the National Committee's finances, has revived a boom for Secretary Baker of Ohio, for Vice-President on the Democratic ticket.

Morgenthau said he would carry the boom to the uoor of the convention.

Preliminaries to the Democratic convention were completed. The National Committee selected former Governor Glynn of New York as temporary chairman to deliver the keynote speech.

ZAPATA TO ATTACK CAPITAL

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, June 12.—Zapata, considered by Mexicans as the most formidable factional leader now opposing the Carranza Government, is encamped with a large body of well equipped men within thirty miles of Mexico City, and an attack on the capital is expected at any time, according to Howard L. Francis, an engineer, who arrived here today from Mexico City.

ATTACK AT VERDUN SHIFTED

Last Night German Infantry Charged French Position West of Fort Vaux But, Paris Reports, Was Repulsed.

Vienna Practically Concedes the Tremendous Success of Russia's Spectacular Drive and Admits Troop Withdrawals.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

The German attack on Verdun has again swung to the east of the Meuse, following the assault of Saturday night on Hill 304.

Last night German infantry charged French positions west of Fort Vaux, but the French War Office reports their repulse.

At the same time, the French positions near Fort Souville and Tavannes were heavily bombarded.

Paris looks for a sevére struggle for possession of Fort Souville, to which the bombardment was evidently preliminary.

Should the Germans capture the fort, they would open a breach in the French defenses which might compel the French to abandon this entire line and fall back on inner defenses on the right bank of the river.

The spectacular Russian advance in Galicia and Volhynia apparently has not been checked.

Vienna concedes the withdrawal of Austrian troops in Bukowina, where the advance of the Russians has brought them within 13 miles of the capital, Czernowitz.

THE VOTE OF TRUST REFUSED

Italian Cabinet, Headed By Salandra, Resigns.

KING HASTENS TO CAPITAL

Italy, From a Military, Financial and Economical Standpoint, Is In a Serious Position, Which May Make Her Continuance as a Belligerent Impossible—Socialist and Peace Parties Growing Tremendously.

Rome, June 12.—Having failed to obtain a vote of confidence from parliament, the Italian cabinet, headed by Premier Salandra, has resigned. King Victor Emmanuel is hurrying here from the front responding to an urgent call from his most trusted advisers who feel that the monarch's presence is imperative.

The resignation of the cabinet is the culmination of a chain of developments which have been brewing under the surface, carefully concealed by the governing powers and which, about to be brought to the surface, threaten to plunge Italy into the gravest crisis since the outbreak of the war. Military, financially and economically the country is today in a position so serious that even conservative observers express the fear that the present form of government, threatened with overthrow just before Italy entered into the war, will not survive. To the military, financial and economic plight threatens to be added domestic political upheaval, making impossible Italy's continuance as a belligerent. The Socialist and peace parties have been growing tremendously since the Austrian offensive began, and also the movement for a radical reconstruction of the whole government.

With the Salandra cabinet, which has just resigned, the country has been thoroughly disgusted for months. Only the ever-repeated appeal to the patriotism of the people not to let internal strife spoil Italy's campaign, and the influence and power Salandra managed to maintain in parliament, postponed time and time again the event that has just come to pass.

The constantly growing satisfaction was given irresistible impetus by the successful Austrian offensive on the Trentino, which gave the lie to the confident assurances of statesmen and pro-government newspapers that the Italian front could never be broken; that, on the contrary, the Austro-Hungarian armies were face to face with inevitable defeat.

General Cadorna, the Italian commander in chief, has changed from the people's idol into a subject of bitter criticism.

The predominant note voiced by the Italian newspapers is that Italy made a grave mistake in believing the war would be, for her, a short one. The country was not prepared for a war lasting longer than six months at the outside.

COMING TUESDAY

When the Sells-Floto circus arrives in this city, which will be within a very short time, everbody will be given a fine opportunity of seeing a band of champions, the likes of which has not been gathered together in one organization in circus history.

Out side of the marvelous show features, which this season surpass anything ever before attempted the Sells-Floto people have the following famous characters:

Jess Willard, champion fighter of the world.

Frank Gotch, champion wrestler of the world.

Jack Curley, world's champion promoter of big events.

H. H. Tamman, controling owner and champion showman.

Not since the famous tour of the James J. Jefferies show has a similar organization been attempted and Mr. Tanmon is quite correct in his contention that no previous organization ever was able to meet a payroll the size of his.

These athletic giants are drawing wonderful crowds wherever they go and put up a clean-out pleasing exhibition that fascinates women and children as well as the male portion of the throngs that gather everywhere. Willard has come to be known as one of the real physical marvels of the age and Gotch needs no introduction for he has been a real champion since 1908, when he defeated George Hackerschmidt in the memorable match lasting over two hours.

RESTA WINNER IN BIG RACE

Covers the 300 Miles In a Little More Than Three Hours.

Chicago, June 12.—Dario Resta won the fastest 300 mile race ever driven by automobiles at Speedway park in 3 hours, 2 minutes and 31.65 seconds, a speed of 98.61 miles an hour.

Ralph de Palma had the race well in hand and started out to push the last six miles at a speed never before seen in actual contest when the old-time hoodoo which has wrested four other races from him when he was all but at the goal, broke a spring on his motor and took the laurel wreath from off his brow. Undaunted he disconnected the cylinder affected and sped around the course on the other three and won second place and its $6,000 prize.

Every winner of a prize, ten in all, drove faster than the fastest time made at Indianapolis on May 30.

Resta won the $12,000 prize, with the two extra $500 prizes for leading at 100 and at 200 miles.

Christiaens won third money, $3,000, and Vail fourth, $1,300. There were ten starters.

QUEEN ESTHER CLASS.

The Queen Esther Class of the Christian church will meet at the home of Mr. Robt. Wilson, on North street, Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Every member urged to be present.

SUPERB GAME OF ATHLETICS DAZES DAYTON

Visitors Were Never in the Hunt Against Heavy Offense and "Stone Wall" Defense of Local Team.

Linson in the Box Was a Bear, Holding Hello Boys Helpless as Babes.

Before a larger crowd than has forced its way through the gates of the base ball grounds for several weeks, the Athletics, Sunday afternoon, in a game fast as lightning, took the Gem City "Hello Boys" into camp by a score of seven to nothing.

The visitors were never in the hunt—were powerless and dazed before the heavy and intelligent offensive and the stone wall defense of the local team.

The game of the local bunch Sunday would have stood a big league team "on its head."

Linson pitched a masterful game, allowing only six scattering hits, and causing seven to whiff the atmosphere harmlessly. Only twice did a visitor see third base during the game.

Wilson, who started for Dayton, lasted only until the third inning, up to which time Washington accumulated its seven runs. Belk, who succeeded Wilson, put his six feet two power behind his heaves and held the Athletics still, so far as scoring was concerned, the remainder of the game.

Up until the ninth the Athletics played errorless ball. Jones at second accepted seven chances without a wobble. He took part in some fast plays.

Frantz of Dayton backstopped for the locals in good style. Adams and Lewis for the locals biffed for three cushions. A. Grandle came through with a 500 per cent average with the stick, but both of his bingles were a little on the scratch order.

The Convention Results

Two national political conventions—the Republican and Progressive—have concluded their labors. While two candidates were nominated, one by each of the political gatherings, only one accepted the proffered honors.

Since the noise and smoke of conflict has cleared away a look about the political terrain is encouraging.

Colonel Roosevelt has declined to make the campaign for president as the progressive party nominee. While the voluntary withdrawal of his spectacular personality from the conflict this fall may be disastrous in its effect upon the future of the third political party which he launched and sponsored four years ago, and tragic to some of the more pronounced of his political followers, it cannot be doubted that it will be beneficial in its results—simplify the issue and guarantee a much saner campaign.

With Colonel Roosevelt eliminated, President Wilson and Justice Hughes will be able to submit a much more clean cut issue to the voters of the nation. There will be, certainly, much more of an appeal to reason and logic and less of the spectacular and dangerously dramatic.

The nation is now well acquainted with the temperament of the president and with that of the republican nominee as well. Both are representative high class, dignified Americans and, there is every reason to believe that the campaign this fall will rise above personal abuse and that neither candidate will indulge in the mistaken policy of creating terrifying boo-gie men of straw in order that they may demolish them in the hope of making an impression on the voters.

As predicted by political seers in the early days of the conventions, the turn down of Colonel Roosevelt was emphatic. Even his suggestion of a compromise candidate was not seriously considered.

The republican convention was well organized, well ordered and proceeded with its business and concluded it too with a thoroughness which left no doubt that the old guard was in absolute control.

The sage of Sagamore Hill announces that he is out of politics, but few Americans accept that statement literally.

It is well, however, at this time when the country faces no crisis, save that urged by the advocates of a preparedness which would eventually lead us away from peace, that one of the two great political parties has chosen and the other will this week choose, as standard bearers men, whose mental poise and public training seems an assurance of peace, no matter which one the electorate of the land may call to service as chief executive.

The progressive movement, consisting largely, if not entirely, of a personal admiration for Colonel Roosevelt, will disappear and the leaders who now feel keenly the disappointment and humiliation of the moment will soon realize that personal preference must give way to the strong will of the majority.

The issues of the campaign have not yet been joined and it is difficult, at this time, to forerast what fundamental difference in policy will be urged. Well sounding generalities and gloomy predictions for the future are no longer sufficient to carry a political party to victory. There must be actual achievement or specific promise in order to secure a majority vote.

Why Verdun?

Just why the German campaign against Verdun is maintained day after day, week after week and month after month is the one big problem which military experts the world over are unable to understand.

Verdun captured does not mean any considerable advantage to the forces of the Kaiser. The losses inflicted upon the French forces do not begin to equal those sustained by the Germans. Not only do the available statistics convey that information, but experience teaches that the cost to the attacking forces is always greater than that sustained by the forces operating on the defensive.

Yet the Verdun attack is maintained in all the violence which characterized the first days of the campaign.

France, though admittedly weaker, numerically, in her army force can well afford to stand toe to toe with Germany and endure the cost of the Verdun campaign and come out victorious.

The allied forces are refusing to be hurried in the inauguration of a general advance. The pressing of Russian forces into Galicia once more is evidence to the world that since the breaking up of winter and the opening of the port of Archangel tremendous stor s of ammunition have reached the Russian battle front.

The most plausible explanations advanced are that the political effect of a victory at Verdun will encourage the German nation to come forward with the men to meet the great concerted advance of the allies when it is launched.

Failing to secure a victory at Verdun the only other answer is that the awful struggle at that point will eliminate France as a factor in the offensive.

Neither explanation is entirely satisfactory and all the world persists in wondering,

Why Verdun?

Poetry For Today

GRIN

If you're upagainst a bruiser and you're getting knocked about—
Grin
If you're feeling pretty groggy, and you're licked beyond a doubt—
Grin
Don't let him see you're flunking; let him know with every clout,
Though your face is battered to a pulp, your booming heart is stout:
Just stand upon your pins until the beggar knocks you out—
And Grin
This life's a bally battle, and the same advice holds true
Of Grin.
If you're up against it badly, then it's only one on you,
So Grin.
If the future's black as thunder, don't let people see you're blue;
Just cultivate a cast-iron smile of joy the whole day through;
if they call you "Little Sunshine," wish that they'd no troubles, too
You may—grin
Rise up in the morning with the will that, smooth or rough,
You'll grin.
Sink to sleep at midnight, and although you're feeling tough.
Yet grin.
There's nothing gained by whinning and you're not that kind of stuff;
You're a fighter from away back, you won't take a rebuff;
Your trouble is that you don't know when you have had enough—
Don't give in
If fate should down you, just get up and take another cuff;
You may bank on it that there is no philosophy like bluff,
And grin.

MONEY MACHINE FAILS.

It Would Not Work After $5,000 Had Been Paid For It.

Peoria, Ill.—Isaac Deutsch and Myer Katz of West Frankfort, Ill., near here, are facing trial on a charge of operating a confidence game brought by Anton Sorchych of Depue, Ill., who claims Deutsch and Katz sold him a machine to make $20 bills, he paying them $5,000 for the outfit.

According to Sorchych, the machine was to be operated by placing a $20 bill in an aperture and turning a crank. Scores of duplicate certificates came forth. Three thousand were "made" in two weeks. Armed with a shotgun, he is said to have guarded his machine for three days after the men left. He then discovered the device would not work without more bills and brought suit.

NEW AID TO POLICE

Wireless Outfit Installed at New York Headquarters.

HAS A RADIUS OF 250 MILES.

Will Supplant Old System of Wigwagging—Special Motor Cycle Squad to Be Organized Shortly So That Messages May Be Rushed When Urgent.

New York.—A complete wireless outfit has just been installed at police headquarters. Announcement of it was recently made by H. C. Case, secretary to Police Commissioner Arthur Woods. The station has a sending radius of more than 250 miles. It was installed as an aid to the efforts Commissioner Woods is making along the lines of police preparedness.

The station has sent and received messages from Sandy Hook and from incoming and outgoing vessels and could, if necessary, communicate with the government station at Arlington, Va., near Washington.

Nearly 100 private wireless outfits scattered throughout the city have been listed by the police, and headquarters can get into communication with them at any hour of the day or night. A special motorcycle squad will be organized shortly so that in time of need messages could be borne swiftly from these private stations to any point in the city.

Sixteen men on the force, all of them formerly telegraphers, are working now under the direction of Sergeant Charles E. Pearce, himself the holder of a first grade commercial license as operator. When they receive their licenses in the wireless service they will then be used at headquarters and be ready also to go to any station where they may be wanted.

The wireless will supplant the old system of wigwagging, which was the only system of communication the police had to fall back on if the telephone and telegraph failed. By using tall buildings messages could thus be relayed in a comparatively short time to any part of the city.

Along with the preparation within the force itself the Citizens' Home Defense league has been recruited now to a strength of nearly 20,000 men. The members are organized in twenty companies of about a hundred men each and are drilled by their own officers under the direct supervision of the precinct captain. Their names are on cards kept by the captain, and they may be called out by him at any time. It is expected that they will supplement the regular police force in patrolling the city in times of danger.

Some trouble has been found to obtain suitable drill grounds for the league, vacant lots and public schools now being utilized.

ALIVE IN ROCK'S CENTER.

Frog May Have Lived There For Centuries—Swelled Up When Freed.

Riverside, Cal.—A live frog, possibly centuries old, was found in the center of a solid granite bowlder which was blasted open at the Bly quarries, five miles west of Riverside.

The frog, still alive, was brought to the chamber of commerce and has been offered to Professor Daggett of the Los Angeles museum. When first exposed to the air and light it was shriveled to about one-third its normal size. Within a few minutes it had swollen until its skin was puffed almost to bursting.

It blinks with perfect froglike intelligence and devoured a couple of flies that were offered as though they were familiar food.

The frog closely resembles the present generation of frogs, differing only in the shape of its head and in its hind quarters. It is lighter in shade than the ordinary frog and is about two and one-half inches long and two inches across the back.

PATRIARCH OF PYTHIANISM GIVES MEMORIAL ADDRESS

Notable Services Held at Grace M. E. Church, Sunday Afternoon, By Confidence Lodge—Beautiful Oration Delivered By Man Who Wrote the Ritual—Church Packed.

Between 200 and 300 Knights of Pythias from this and surrounding towns, took part in the annual memorial services of Confidence Lodge, Knights of Pythias, Sunday afternoon, when Mr. Walter B. Richie, patriarch of Pythianism, delivered the memorial oration at Grace M. E. church.

The graves of nearly sixty Knights at rest in the Washington cemetery were decorated by a committee Sunday morning, a great profusion of beautiful flowers being furnished for that purpose.

Sunday afternoon the Knights assembled at the Castle Hall of Confidence Lodge and marched in a body to Grace church, where the entire first floor of the auditorium had been reserved for the Knights.

The parade was headed by the color bearers, the Washington Band, Maynard Company, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, Bloomingburg Company, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias; the subordinate lodge members and automobiles bearing the speaker and lodge officials.

At the church the entire balcony was packed and after the Knights filed in, each wearing the symbolic sprig of myrtle, all vacant seats left were quickly filled up by visitors, which included many out-of-town persons drawn here by the orator of the day.

On the stage with Mr. Richie were Rev. Stone, Rev. Gage, Hon. C. A. Reid, Attorneys H. M. Rankin and A. C. Patton, A. L. Brakefield, H M. Kingsbury and Hon. A. R. Creamer.

The program opened with an organ number by Miss Light, followed with singing by the choir, invocation by Rev. Stone and beautiful solos by Miss Edith Gardner and Miss Louise Larrimer.

Mr. Reid presided over the meeting, and after a few most appropriate remarks, introduced the speaker, Walter B. Richie, the man who wrote the splendid ritual of the Knights of Pythias, a former Supreme Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, and who is the best known and foremost member of the order now living.

Mr. Richie's oration teemed with beautiful thoughts, many of which were quoted literally from the Ritual which he penned. He pleaded with his brother Knights to incorporate the teachings of the Ritual into their every day life; to scatter roses to the living as well as to the dead; to visit the sick and afflicted and speak words of cheer; not to shrink from the home of a friend when that home is visited by the angel of death, but point out the "stars of hope which shine beyond."

He laid particular emphasis upon the True Knight in the home, and what that home will be if the member of the order is a True Knight—that the teachings of the order are for the protection of the home and the uplifting of mankind in the exemplification of Friendship, Charity and Benevolence, concluding his remarks with the words "So that when you come to the brink of the river that marks the boundary of the Unknown land, your hands may be filled with deeds of charity and of love—the golden keys that open the portals of the Palace of Eternity."

His words made a profound impression upon all who heard him, and the beautiful words of the Ritual had a new meaning to the Knights who heard him.

After Mr. Richie's address, short ritualistic services were conducted by the lodge officers, and Mr. Reid made a brief talk in conclusion, after which Rev. Gage pronounced a benediction and the services were at an end.

At the Hall after the services Mr. Richie again addressed the Knights making another notable address in which he stated that his pleas were now for a more thorough application of the ritual, so that as a person took the successive degrees they would know and understand each more thoroughly .

CUTTING AFFRAY IN WHICH BLOOD FLOWS FREELY

Jack Taylor and Blaine Hurley Engage in Ugly Fight Sunday Afternoon and Taylor, Who Is Alleged to Have Started the Trouble, Is Worsted.

A cutting affray in which blood poured freely, occurred at the barber shop back of the Arlington Hotel stairway, when Jack Taylor and Baine Hurley, both colored, became engaged in a scrap in which it is claimed Taylor was the aggressor.

The fight is said to have started over a checker game when Taylor struck Hurley or kicked the checker board over. The affair seems to have started in a joking manner and quickly developed into a rough and tumble fight in which Hurley wielded a knife, inflicting a great gash on Taylor's neck and another across the arm, receiving a badly cut and bruised ear in return.

Taylor made his way to the office of a physician where the ugly wounds were closed, after which he is said to have left town and was last seen entering Bloomingburg.

Hurley was arrested under a charge of cutting with intent to kill and released upon his own recognizance.

Taylor was still at large Monday.

GEORGE CULBERSON SENTENCED TO WORKS

A week ago when George Culberson was before Probate Judge Allen for non-support, he was informed that he must get busy and stay sober or go to the workhouse on a $300 fine imposed for non-support.

Once the edict was pronounced Judge Allen did not ask the man for a promise, but having told him what would happen, dismissed the matter.

Saturday Culberson was picked up in an intoxicated condition and is said to have been that way for several days. Judge Allen lost no time in preparing papers for the man's committment to the Xenia works and he was taken to that institution on the Monday morning train.

The action is expected to be a lesson to all such offenders.

GOOD WORK OF THE LOCAL FEDERATION

The result of the Saturday meeting, attended by State Highway Commissioner Cowan is another of a series of "feathers in the cap" of the Fayette County Good Roads Federation, and the result is most gratifying to a large number of persons.

At the meeting at the court house Saturday, Chairman James Ford presided, and Mr. Cowan, after hearing the matter presented, addressed the large number of men present, stating that this year Fayette was receiving some $40,000 from the state for road improvement, and adding about $12,000 from this county for state aid work, and no further funds were available this year.

He further said that if temporary improvements are made on the road he would be glad to take the matter up with the county commissioners and pave the road to Good Hope pike next year, as the pike is one of the Main Market roads, and it is desired to get all such roads improved as well and as quickly as possible. He said funds would be available by February of next year.

The commissioners expressed a willingness to build the road next spring.

HABITUAL DRUNKS SENT TO WORKHOUSE

Bay Hause and John Barker, habitual drunks, were sent to the workhouse Monday morning after failure to pay an old fine and a new one on charges of intoxication.

The two men will be kept in the institution 30 days or longer.

VANDALISM DUE TO BEER PARTY

A beer party was pulled off at the McLean school house two miles west of this city, Saturday night, and after the beer had been consumed the parties taking part in the affair proceeded to hurl the bottles through the windows of the school building, smashing nearly every window in the building and resulting in considerable loss.

The affair is being investigated and if the persons who threw the bottles are located, they will be prosecuted for the malicious destruction of property.

It is understood the persons committng the crime were in an automobile and had gotten their supply of booze at the express office in this city a short time before the nefarious work was done.

MAKING PLANS FOR BIG SUMMER CAMP

The annual Y. M. C. A. camp for boys will be held this year July 6 to 20th, inclusive. The place will be "Cold Springs," on Paint Creek near Bainbridge. Arrangements have already been made for twenty boys, but present plans can be stretched to accommodate any number that plan to go. All boys who are sure of going will make arrangements at the earliest possible date, so that plans can be made accordingly.

This camp will be open to both members and non-members. A charge of $3.00 a week will include everything. Boys who desire it will be given a chance to work for all or a part of their expenses. There is a limited number of these jobs and it will be necessary to apply early to be sure of getting one.

DEATH COMES TO WELL KNOWN FAMILY

After months of illness, bravely borne, Mrs. Caroline Henkle, widow of the late C. W. Henkle, and mother of Messrs A. C. Henkle, A. E. Henkle and Mrs. James Perrill, of this city, passed quietly away at her home in Mt. Sterling Sunday morning at half past four o'clock.

The Henkle family has been among tnose of long residence in this county and is widely known.

Throughout a life of Christian usefulness and the utmost devotion to her home Mrs. Henkle made many and warm friends, especially in the Jasper neighborhood of her earlier residence, who will learn of her death wit hmuch regret.

She is survived by ten children, a number of grandchildren and three greatgrandchildren. Her husband died in 1895 and her brother, Mr. John Henkle, a year later.

The children living are A. C. Henkle, A. E. Henkle, Mrs. James Perrill of this city; J. S. Henkle, Orvis and Guy of Chicago; S. L. Henkle of Holland, Mich.; Mrs. James Lily of Columbus; Mrs. Robert Schryver and Miss Lily Henkle of Mt. Sterling.

Throughout these months of illness the children have been most devoted to their mother and are all at the home to attend the funeral.

The services will be held at the residence in Mt. Sterling at 1:30 p. m., Tuesday. The interment will be made in the family lot in the Washington cemetery, the sad party expecting to reach here at 3:45 to 4:00 o'clock the same afternoon.

CLASS PLEASED WITH DR. MILLER

More than 200 heard the lesson expounded before the Men's Bible Class of Grace church Sunday morning, by the teacher of Lancaster's big class, Dr. C. C. Miller.

Dr. Miller's teaching is marked by its simplicity and clearness and its close application to every-day problems of life.

After Dr. Miller's appearance before the class it was easy to see why he had been selected to teach the Lancaster class.

Dr. Miller was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. J. V. Stone while in the city.

MUSIC, FLOWERS, BLUE SKIES AND HAPPY CHILDREN

All Contribute to Make Children's Day a Very Happy One in Several Local Churches—Delightful Programs Are Largely Attended.

Children's Day, always a festival of the utmost attraction to old as well as young, was celebrated in three of the city's churches Sunday, with large crowds of interested spectators. The first of the services was held at the Presbyterian Church.

At the regular Sunday School hour a beautiful program of songs, pantomines, drills and recitations was put on under the direction of Miss Mazie Kessler assisted by Misses Edna Hamm, Gladys Butcher pianist, and Emily Palmer.

The stage presented a picturesque summer garden, with white lattice work, trimmed with oak leaves, the back ground for tall vases of red and white carnations, the oak leaves screened the chancel rail and decked the sides of the stage.

The program was opened with processional by the children as they formed on the stage for two songs.

Grace Church.

A pink and white color ssheme was carried out in quantities of peonies effectively filling a lattice work of green which rose in front of the altar, covered with white as was also the floor, the radiators were also masked in green, surmounted with bowls of the peonies.

Miss Lousie Weaver had charge of the program assisted by Misses Dorothy Saxton and Ruth Brownell and Messrs A. W. Duff and Geo. Bryant in the decorating. Misses Ruth McCoy and Marion Christopher played.

The Intermediate and Junior departments put on a charming cantata: "The Crowning of Flora." The children made a pretty picture all in white with crowns of flowers. Dorothy Briggs was Queen, and Ruth Tanquary and Portia Brownell her maids.

The usual baptismal service was held.

First Baptist.

In the evening the First Baptist church presented their delightful entertainment in charge of Mrs. Howard McLean, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Hicks, Mrs. Wesley DeWees and Mrs. Albert Snider.

The decorations were artistic, the baptistry banked in with greenery and syringa with fountain playing in the center. In honor of the approaching flag day there was a center pole on the platform with streamers of red, white and blue and ten little girles gave a taking flag drill, pulling the ribbons of the pole to make a big wheel of national colors.

Lillian Guddel gave a captivating musical recitation; three little boys, Kenneth Carr, Richard McLean and Vincent Carr, were cute in 'Taps' and Katharine Buchler, Virginia Keaton, Donna Buchler and Wayne McCune recitations and Lena Householder and Madonna Dabe sang prettily.

Piano duets were played by Sarah DeWees, Madonna Dabe, Gertrude Miller and Dorothy Wyatt.

Miss Marie Melvin was taken to the Fayette Hospital with a sudden attack of appendicitis Saturday night. An operation was deemed necessary and was performed by Dr. Drury of Columbus Sunday evening. Friends will be glad to know that physicians report that she is doing as well as possible.

In Social Circles

Miss Winona DeWitt, the attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeWitt, and Mr. Frank Thornton, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Thornton, were quietly married by Rev. J. Vernon Stone at the Grace M. E. parsonage at eight o'clock Saturday evening.

The announcement comes as a surprise to the many friends of the contracting parties and they are receiving heartsome congratulations galore.

Both bride and bridegroom are graduates of the local high school, the bride supplementing her high school course with summer school and the bridegroom with a course at Bliss College in Columbus.

Mr. Thornton is now filling with competency and courtesy the position of B. & O. ticket agent in this city and the future home of the young couple will be made for the present with the bride's parents on Washington avenue.

Complimenting their house guest, Mrs. A. L. Slavens, of New York, and also Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Westerfield of New Orleans, La., Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Maynard gave a pleasurable little chafing dish supper of artistic appointments. The additional guests were Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Hughey, Miss Ustick and Mr. Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rodgers and Mrs. M. F. Stuckey entertained at an enjoyable dinner Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gardner, and two sons of Toledo, Mrs. C. E. Link and two children of Akron.

The table was beautifully decorated with a profusion of roses and peonies and a large birthday cake with blazing candles, and delicious courses served.

Seated with Mr. and Mrs. Smith and the young honor guest were Mrs. Lena Backenstoe, Mr. and Mrs. John Tillett and grandson Willard Carl Lanum, Mr. and Mrs. Jud Clark, Miss Jennie Clark, Charlene Smith and Waco Patton.

ST. LOUIS IS MECCA OF DEMS.

Leaders and Delegates Arriving For Convention.

WILL RENOMINATE WILSON

National Chairman McCombs Will Call the Assemblage to Order Wednesday Noon and Temporary Chairman Glynn Will Strike the Keynote. Important Planks of the Platform. Candidates For Second Place.

St. Louis, June 12.—This city is the Mecca of Democracy. Thousands of visitors, including party leaders and delegates, arrived during the day to be in attendance upon the Democratic national convention, which meets here Wednesday to nominate candidates for president and vice president and draw up the party's declaration of principles.

While the matter of nominating a candidate for president will lie in the mere formality of placing President Wilson before the delegates, the matter of the platform is engaging the serious consideration of the arriving leaders. The big struggles are expected to be over the preparedness, prohibition and suffrage planks. William J. Bryan and Eugene N. Foss, formerly governor of Massachusetts, are expected to join in trying to induce their friends to have an absolute prohibition plank incorporated in the platform.

The convention will be called to order at noon on Wednesday by National Chairman William F. McCombs. Martin H. Glynn of New York will deliver the temporary chairman's address. After a session of two or three hours adjournment will be taken until Thursday noon, after which time Senator James of Kentucky will take the gavel as permanent chairman, deliver an address and receive the reports of the permanent committees, the platform being the most important work. It will be reported and read by Senator William J. Stone of Missouri.

Adjournment will then be taken until Friday noon and the afternoon of June 16 will be devoted to Mr. Westcott's speech renaming President Wilson. The leaders on the ground believe that the president will be renominated on Friday evening and that Vice President Marshall will be renominated Friday night some time before midnight.

There is a disposition on the part of the national committeemen and delegates to resent a remark frequently heard to the effect that so far as the platform is concerned the book is closed. It is admitted that President Wilson will "suggest" the idea of most of the planks, but it is maintained that his frequent conferences with Senator William J. Stone and with members of the cabinet is an ardent indication of his intention not to dictate what shall be done here.

The Platform.

When the platform is ready for the convention it is expected that it will represent an expansion of that adopted by the Missouri Democratic convention. That particular platform was written by National Chairman William F. McCombs, it was learned, and it is agreed that when the president and Senator Stone have brought to bear on it their intimate knowledge of the matters with which it deals the finished document will give the country not only a competent review of what has been accomplished by the party, but also some indications of the motives that have actuated the president and his advisers in adopting certain policies.

This will be particularly true, it is asserted, in the case of the Mexican problem. It was pointed out by one who is in the confidence of the president that he has designedly refrained from telling the country why he did certain things, or did not do certain things, in Mexico, and the information was vouchsafed that when the president did speak, either through the platform or on some later occasion, his justification of his Mexican policy would answer completely the charge that his Mexican policy has been a failure.

So far as the issue of Americanism is concerned, one hears in St. Louis little more than the assertion that the Republican party has no monopoly of patriotism, and that the Democratic document will go just as far as its expression of loyalty to the fundamental traditions of this country as that of the Republican party does.

There is much more interest displayed as to what will take place in the national committee after the nominations are made. Chairman William F. McCombs is anxious to retire. The committeemen want to name one of their company—Homer Cummins of Connecticut—for chairman. There continues to be talk, however, of Colonel Edward M. House, the president's advisers.

The program is to renominate Vice President Marshall, but there are several persons who want the honor. Missouri has a candidate in Governor Major. Nebraska offers Governor Moorehead. Roger Sullivan of Illinois insists that he is not joking in putting up his name, and Senator Owen of Oklahoma would not refuse a renomination. The far west seeks recognition.

TO CONFER WITH THE LEADERS

Nominee Hughes Leaves For New York City.

ABOUT TO OPEN THE FIGHT

Proposed Conferences May Have an Important Bearing On the Campaign—Meeting Between Hughes and Colonel Roosevelt Not Unlikely. Many Problems Engaging the Attention of the Candidate.

The announcement, which was made there by Justice Hughes or his secretary, immediately gave rise to many surmises, in view of the fact that the thought of harmonizing the hitherto discordant elements of the Republican party is uppermost in the minds of many leaders.

To this wish Justice Hughes himself gave expression in his message of acceptance to Chairman Harding of the Republican convention. "I sincerely trust," he said, "that all former differences may be forgotten and that we may have united effort in a patriotic realization of our national need and opportunity."

The circumstances under which Mr. Hughes make his hurried trip to New York and the report that George W. Wickersham, former attorney general, after conferring with the Republican nominee last week, made a hurried trip to Oyster Bay, gave rise to the belief that conferences which may have an important bearing upon the campaign may be under contemplation, if a meeting between Mr. Hughes and Colonel Roosevelt himself is not in prospect.

There are many problems to engage the attention of Mr. Hughes outside the healing of the breach that has existed in the Republican party. A chairman of the national committee is to be selected. The methods of campaign are to be decided upon. His own household plans for the forthcoming summer are to be worked out.

The flood of messages of congratulations seems to be unchecked. They were so many that it is almost an impossibility for Justice Hughes to read them all. None of them was given out for publication.

Mr. Hughes when informed officially Saturday by Chairman Warren G. Harding that he had been chosen as the standard bearer of his party, immediately tendered his resignation as associate justice of the United States and wired to Chicago an acceptance of the honor. High spots in his acceptance telegram follow:

"I stand for the firm and unflinching maintenance of all the rights of American citizens on land and sea. In our foreign relations we have suffered incalculably from the weak and vacillating course which has been taken with regard to Mexico. At the outset of the administration we presented to the world a humiliating spectacle of inaptitude. I stand for an Americanism that knows no ulterior purpose; for a patriotism that is single and complete. Whether native or naturalized, of whatever race or creed, we have but one country, and we do not for an instant tolerate any division of allegiance. I believe in preparedness. We must have the strength which self-respect demands—the strength of an efficient nation ready for every emergency. Our preparation must be industrial and economic, as well as military. We must have a fair and wise readjustment of the tariff. We must conserve the just interests of labor. We must be zealous to assure the foundations of honest business. We must not throttle American industry here or abroad."

HOME TROUBLE

(By American Press)

London, June 12.—The proposal made by Mr. Lloyd-George to the Irish party meeting include provisions for an imperial conference, which shall include representatives from all the dominions, to meet immediately after the war to consider the government of the empire, including Ireland.

The official report of the meeting gives Mr. Lloyd-George's proposals as follows: First, the immediate operation of home rule; second, the introduction immediately of an amending bill as a war emergency act; third, during the war the Irish members are to remain at Westminster and the six Ulster counties are left under the imperial government; fourth, immediately after the war an imperial conference of representatives from all the dominions will consider the government of the empire, including Ireland; fifth, immediately afterwards and during the war emergency interval the permanent settlement of all the great outstanding problems shall be proceeded with.

THEY'RE THERE

(By American Press)

St. Louis, June 12.—Disappointed, but not dismayed, by the result of their labors at the Republican convention, women suffragists began pouring into St. Louis to insist on a full-fledged equal rights plank in the Democratic platform.

Regarding their failure to induce the Republicans to indorse suffrage by constitutional amendments as a temporary setback, the suffrage leaders insisted that good might come of the situation. Democratic leaders, they argued, should take action to capture the very large woman vote in the suffrage states.

A declaration for woman suffrage in the Democratic platform, suffrage leaders insisted, would mean added thousands of votes for President Wilson and the rest of the ticket this fall.

AWFUL CRIME

(By American Press)

Pittsburgh, June 12.—Crumpled in the bottom of an automobile, his pockets turned inside out and private papers scattered about, the body of William H. McCreary, a well known musician, was found in a field on the outskirts of the city. Detectives are looking for five unidentified men who were seen with McCreary. McCreary, who made a practice of carrying large sums of money, is believed to have been drugged and then left to die after being robbed.

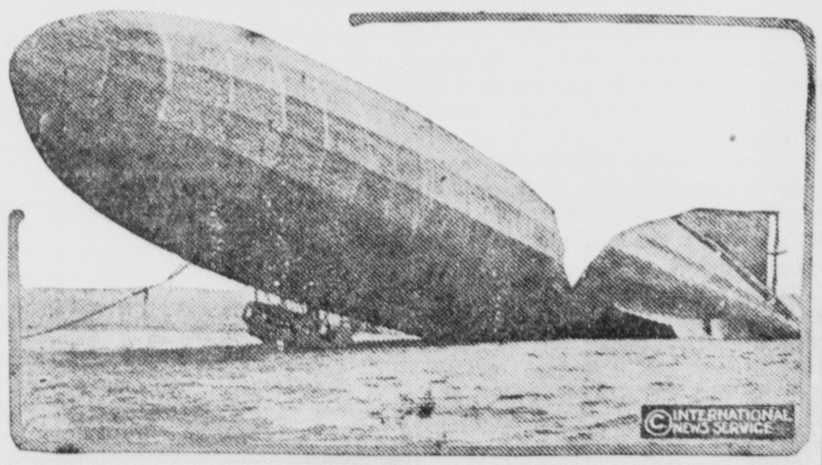

WHO'LL MANAGE

(By American Press)

Chicago, June 12.—Five names are mentioned as possible candidates for chairman of the Republican national committee and manager of the Hughes and Fairbanks campaign. The names mentioned were: Frank H. Hitchcock of New York, Ralph E. Williams of Oregon, Joseph B. Kealing of Indiana, Fred C. Tanner of New York and Charles B. Warren of Michigan. The committee will soon confer with Mr. Hughes.

SWEEPING ON

(By American Press)

London, June 12.—From the wooded region of southwestern Russia to the Roumanian frontier the Russians are keeping up their tremendous offensive against the Austro-Hungarians, who have been reinforced on several sectors by Germans. The advance of the Russians is notable for the large number of prisoners reported taken and the enormous captures of guns, machine guns, ammunition and other war stores. In the week that has elapsed since they first threw their attacks against the Austrians, the Russians report that they have captured approximately 108,000 officers and men and forced back the organized lines of their antagonists from the region of the Volaynian fortress triangle to Roumania.

AUSTRIA CLAIMS ONE

(By American Press)

London, June 12.—The Austrians concentrated their efforts against Monte Lamerle, southeast of Asiago. The Austrian war office announces that the heights were captured with 500 prisoners, while the Italian official statement, says that the Austrians were repulsed by an Italian counter-attack.

ACTION NEAR YPRES

(By American Press)

London, June 12.—The German artillery was very active in the Ypres salient, bombarding the town of Ypres and the region behind it to the south and maintaining a heavy shell fire for three hours on a front of 1,500 yards of British trenches from Hill 60 northward.

LANSING REFUSES THE CARRANZA NOTE DEMANDS

Anti-American Feeling In Mexico Cause of Apprehension.

Washington, June 12.—Official reports from all parts of the Mexican republic indicate a rapid spreading of the flame of anti-American feeling. The Carranza government, which advices to the state department indicate, is nearer than ever to the brink of a complete collapse, is either powerless to suppress the demonstrations that are taking place, or is making no effort to suppress them. Five different factions are at present operating independently of the de facto government, all of which, apparently, are taking advantage of the presence of American troops on Mexican soil to undermine Carranza.

Although both the state and war departments were without any fresh advices, it is feared that at any moment news will be received of an attack on American citizens somewhere in Mexico. The state department has been advised that a Pacific coast mail steamer is due at Acapuco, on the west coast, to take off the American refugees there and arrangements have been made for the vessel to perform a similar service at Salina Cruz. No report has been received concerning the Americans still at Chihuahua, who made efforts to leave, following the attack there on the American consulate.

It is now expected that Secretary Lansing's reply to the Carranza demand for a withdrawal of the American forces will be dispatched to Mexico City within the next few days. It is understood to have been completed and is said to contain a refusal to comply with the demand for an immediate withdrawal.

RANCH RAIDED

(By American Press)

San Antonio, Tex., June 12.—Mexican bandits raided the ranch of T. A. Coleman, near Hidalgo, in Hidalgo county, and drove off eighty horses. Captain O. A. Bell, with one troops of the Fourteenth cavalry, has crossed into Mexico in pursuit.

FRENCH REPEL

(By American Press)

Paris, June 12.—Three German infantry attacks against the French trenches on Hill 304 and the positions east of that elevation in the Verdun sector were completely checked by the French troops, says the official statement issued at the French war department. Two German detachments penetrated the French advanced trenches in the forest of Apremont, southeast of St. Mihiel, the statement adds, but were later ejected.

Home Ties.

A sedate banker of Hamilton, Canada, was sitting in his office one morning when his ten-year-old hopeful drifted in, bearing with him an expression of unutterable gloom.

"Anything gone wrong, boy?" interrogated the financier. "Why, at your age you ought to be cheerful all the time."

"I know it, Frank; I know it," responded the youngster. "I'm doin' the best I can; but, honest, I had a terrible time up at the house with your wife this morning."—Saturday Evening Post.

THE BIG SHOW COMES TUESDAY

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:15 o'clock will mark the opening of the tanbark sawdust and spangled season at Washington C. H.

For months the Sells-Floto circus cohorts have been diligently rehearsing the long program and all is now in readiness. This show will start off with an entirely new spectacle, "America." America, the greatest nation of all the great world, portrayed in spectacle form as the wondrous possessions of the Sells-Floto circus, Champion Shows of the World, trail their way in stately procession around the hippodrome track. The costumes and all properties are entirely new, and the resources of the circus in horses, elephants, camels,etc., are drawn upon to the fullest extent.

After the spectacle will come the purely circus features, and for a matter of over two hours the three rings, two stages and track will be scenes of kaleidoscope activity.

There will be Jess Willard, champion pugilist of the world, who will make his appearance galloping at the head of the Buffalo Bill cowboys. Incidently he will give an exhibition with his sparring partner, illustrating just how he won the championship. Then there will be Frank Gotch, wrestling champion of the world, who will demonstrate how he has conquered all contestants.

Rosa Rosaland, champion somersault equestrienne of the world—she is the only woman to master the feat of somersaulting from horse to horse. Zora, the champion woman elephant trainer, who appears at every performance with her thirty tons of elephants.

The menagerie will be found to be most interesting, and among the new features here will be found "Toyland" where surrounded by the beloved figures of the Mother Goose ryhme, the babies of the circus await the acquaintance of the babies of humanity.

Babies of the animal kingdom in its every branch are there, from baby kid gloves goats from France to the baby lions of Africa and the baby elephants of India, all will be as glad to see the children as the children will be to see them.

MRS. EDISON RAPS ABBREVIATED SKIRTS.

New York.—Hundreds of women recently heard well known women who were delegates to the National Federation of Women's Clubs convention discuss dress—the right and wrong kind of dress, the future dress and the cost of dress. All the speakers advocated greater individuality in dress.

Mrs. Thomas A. Edison made an appeal for greater modesty in dress, particularly of young women, and in no unmistakable terms assailed clothing which, she said, tended to lead sons down to degradation. She denounced "the present abbreviated skirts and uncovered shoulders," saying: "I had a father who frequently reminded me 'Daughter, be modest.' I think this would be good advice to our girls today."

Her husband, Mrs. Edison said, had declared there was not more than one woman in a hundred who was well dressed.

Pushes Junk Cart Miles.

Holton, Kan.—Sherman Crawford, an industrious junk gatherer of this city, loses none of his profits to the railroads. He loads his cart with 800 pounds of material and when weather and roads are good pushes the cart to Topeka. By leaving Holton at 8 o'clock in the morning Crawford can make the thirty-two miles to the capital city by sundown.

HOSTESSES ROBBED AS SHE FIXES HAIR

Young Girl Is Credited With New Way of Gathering Jewels In New York.

Mount Vernon, N. Y.—A young woman who has a new method of robbery is being sought by the police of this city, New Rochelle, White Plains and Yonkers. She is a very pretty girl, about twenty years old and expensively attired.

Her method of obtaining jewels, hand bags, purses and anything else of value, which has been the same in all places, is explained by Mrs. Edgar B. Davis of 134 Eleventh avenue, Mount Vernon.

While the Davis family was at luncheon the girl called at their home and introduced herself as a friend of Fred Goodell, a cousin of Mrs. Davis, who lives in Bridgeport, and said that Goodell had sent her to Mrs. Davis to wait there until he called with an automobile and they would go for a ride.

She declined an invitation to partake of the luncheon, but asked if she could go to a bedroom to dress her hair. Mrs. Davis sent her to her own room and returned to her meal. Half an hour later it was discovered the girl had fled and that Mrs. Davis had lost $250 in jewels from her bedroom.

In each place the girl represents that she is to wait for some relative of the family who is to call for her.

HORSE IS SOLE HEIR TO $42,707 LEGACY

No Other Pets Found to Enjoy Comforts Ordered In New York Woman's Will.

New York.—The appraisal of the estate of Mrs. Edith Rogers Gellatly, who died on July 17, 1913, at 34 West Fifty-seventh street, and who was the wife of John Gellatly, an insurance broker, shows that while she left the income from stocks valued at $42,707 for the care of her horses and dogs, the only animal she owned at the time of her death was a horse at White Plains, appraised at $700.

In making the bequest Mrs. Gellatly directed that upon the death of her pets the principal of the fund and the unused income should be used by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in finding homes for animals and in preventing cruelty.

Mrs. Gellatly, who was the daughter of Columbus Rogers, disposed of an individual estate of $580,704 net, and a trust fund of $702,201, set aside for her in her father's will. She gave $1,166,271 to her husband and $80,926 to her sister, Ella A. Rogers.

HELD UP BY BEAR.

Cub Refused to Move Until Auto Went at Top Speed.

Ogdensburg, N. Y.—David Barber, a traveling salesman, was held up recently by a cub bear near Loon lake while driving from Malone to Saranac Lake. Barber thought the bear was a dog. The animal sat in the middle of the road and refused to move out of the path of the automobile.

Mr. Barber alighted from his car to see what was the matter with the animal. He approached close enough to see that it was a bear and then reversed his direction. He hastily jumped into his car and speeded up the engine, the noise of which so disturbed the bear that it ambled off into the bushes. "I wasn't afraid of the bear, but I didn't want any extended interviews with Mother Bear," said Barber.

LOSES WOODEN LEG.

Olympia, N. Y.—While the breaking of a leg ordinarily would be classed as a permanent partial disability under the workmen's compensation act, this is not true with a wooden leg, the industrial insurance commission recently decided.

In the blank marked "Nature of injury," Stark's claim says, "Busted wooden leg; never will get well."

Charles Pathe, chevalier of the Legion of Honor, head of the great motion picture house bearing his name and one of the largest manufacturers in France, was the pioneer in the film business. He was the first man to stage a play before the camera, the first to mechanically color films and the first to transfer news events to the screen. The motion picture industry owes him a debt which cannot be overestimated.

Columbus, O., June 12.—Miner G. Norton, Republican, of Cleveland, today wrote to Secretary of State Hildebrant, withdrawing as a candidate for Governor. His declaration of candidacy was filed last week.

Mr. Norton's letter of withdrawal stated that he had intended being a candidate for Governor had Governor Willis been nominated for the vice-presidency last week.

SPRAGUE LAW FINALLY OUT

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 12.—The Supreme Court today affirmed the action of the Ohio Supreme Court in holding that the Sprague Congressional redistricting law, enacted by the 1915 Legislature, had been repealed by an adverse referendum vote of the people.

Chief Justice White for the court held that the point that a republican form of government was denied by allowing referendum vote on a law passed by a legislature, was one for Congress to consider and not for the courts.

He further held that Congress had expressly amended the federal "apportionment" act so that the referendum might be applied by the states to apportionment laws.

ROY CLAFLIN FOR HUGHES

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 12.—Roy Claflin, District of Columbia member of the Progressive National Committee today telegraphed Colonel Roosevelt urging him to make final his tentative refusal of the Progressive nomination for the presidency and declaring for Hughes.

A JOINT CONFERENCE ON R. R. DISTURBANCE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, June 12.—The railroads' committee told the representatives of 350,000 employers they would compromise by giving them an 8-hour day providing the double compensation rule is wiped out.

The joint conference has adjourned to consider the proposal of the railroads.

SAFETY FIRST

That is a motto that everyone should follow as closely as possible.

One way to do this is to use "Killo," which destroys bugs, and germs of all kinds. Sprinkled in garbage pails and all breeding places of flies, which are great carriers of disease, it will destroy the egg and drive away the pest.

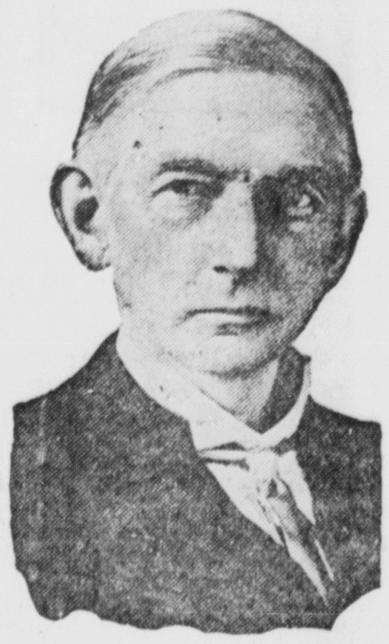

It sweetens, purifies and disinfects. Is non-poisonous and should be used in every home. Price 15c per can. Ask your grocer for it.

ROBINS COUNSELS PATIENCE

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, June 12. — Raymond Robins, chairman of the Progressive National Convention, and Harold Ickes, Progressive National Committeeman for Illinois, will leave tomorrow or Wednesday for Oyster Bay to talk over the party situation with Colonel Roosevelt.

Mr. Ikes said the National Committee was "all at sea."

In a joint statement issued today Robins and Ickes counselled Progressives to await patiently the meeting of the National Committee June 26, when it will be decided what action the party will take.

The statement said:

"Wise and loyal Progressives will wait until their national committee reports, June 26, before taking individual action in the present crisis.

"Let us be patient. Resentment is a poor counsellor. The needs of the country demand judgment as well as enthusiasm."

APPLICATION IS DENIED VIRGINIA

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 12.—The Supreme Court today denied the petition of the Commonwealth of Virginia for an immediate order to the court marshal to sell property of the State of W. Virginia to satisfy the $12,000,000 judgment against the latter in the Virginia-West Virginia debt case.

WILLARD WILL WELCOME DAY HE LOSES BELT

World Champion Who Will Be Here Tomorrow Dislikes to Be "Lamped" and Is Weary of Traveling About—Is Strictly a Home Man.

Jess Willard, world's champion heavyweight boxer who will be in this city tomorrow and will give exhibitons at each performance of the Selis-Floto Circus. will wilcome the day somebody comes along and takes that big title from him.This may be a big surprise to a lot of sport fans, but Jess won't weep if he loses the championship, as away down deep in his heart he is tired of it.

Just now Willard is making a lot of money out of the title. His salary with the Sells-Floto circus is of such size that the average bank president's income sinks into insignificance alongside it and Jess, being a man of simple tastes, finds himself accumulating wealth at a rapid gait.

In order to get the money, however, as he is now doing, he is compelled to be away from his family all of the time. Since Jess is a home man and loves his family above anything in the world he is tired of chasing around with the show.

Then when he goes home the situation is even worse. Because of his enormous size he can go nowhere without attracting attention. It is almost impossible for him to go to a theater without breaking up the show so intent is the crowd upon getting a look at him. He cannot take his wife into a public restaurant and enjoy a meal in comfort, so constantly does the throng flock around him. Auto trips are uncomfortable for the same reason.

Willard has enough of the world's goods at the present time to keep him in comfort the remainder of his life. He often has said that all he wants to make sure of is that his family, now consisting of three girls and two boys, will have plenty of everything. So he wants to spend some time in comfort and that is why he won't be sorry when somebody else becomes champion.

FREE SWIMMING LESSONS ARE GIVEN

The Y. M. C. A. is making it possible for every boy in Washington C. H. to learn to swim. Free swimming coupons are being printed in The Herald. Clip one of these and present it to the swimming instructor at the Y. M. C. A., and be given one lesson free of charge. This opportunity is offered, especially for those who are not members of the Y. M. C. A.

Classes will begin Tuesday at 9:00 a. m., and will be held on Tuesdays and Fridays for members, and on Thursdays and Saturdays for non-members. Seven thousand people in the United States drown each year because they cannot swim.

COMPLAINT ARISES OVER ROAD REPAIR

People along the Greenfield pike and who travel that road are making complaint over the present condition of the thoroughfare, where a large amount of crushed stone has been dumped in the middle of the pike and left without further attention than that given it at the time it was placed there.

As a result of the road's present condition numerous machines have slipped into the ditch while trying to get past the stone.

FAVORABLE COMMENT ON CITY HEAT

In the homes where city heat is installed there is great appreciation of the fact that during the cold spell of last week the Washington Gas & Electric Co. supplied these homes with heat.

The season closed the last of May and the voluntary consideration of the management in opening its plant again that patrons could be comfortable during the very unusual temperature of June has aroused much favorable comment.

This is only the second time since the installation of the plant that patrons have been favored so late in the season.

INJURED LAD BETTER

The condition of little Fred Follis who was so painfully injured last Friday, while playing with a loaded revolver, is slightly improved today. No operation to remove the lead has been performed, as yet, and there is still considerable doubt as to his recovery. He is being given every attention at the Fayette Hospital.
